Ho, hum, guess I'll make a protest to some one. Russia is protesting to Japan, Japan is protesting to Great Britain, and Mussolini is protesting to everybody. I ought to ease in some place—and not be noticed. In which respect I would be able to get as much attention as a major nation.

Maybe these drinks which put you back on the "feelin' good" map will do it, but I'm still waiting for one of them to take hold, reports a fellow who was trying to get over a morning after.

Jim Randel has a car which looks so good another man wanted it. So the envious observer made an unsuccessful effort to get inside. He pried a glass out with a pin and bar and then failed to get in. But it cost Jim another glass. I've seen a lot of property in my lifetime I wanted but it belonged to the other fellow, and I was always afraid if I took it some one would send for me and that kept me from it.

Cub reporter who had turned in a personal that a certain couple had just returned from a six-weeks eastern trip, was called to appear before the city editor who informed him that the couple had been home for six weeks. And added: "Why, I was in Europe in 1933." Ouch!

Third street sign: "For sale or exchange." Underneath another one: "Men." The proximity is at least significant. Ho hum, maybe all same as used cars. Well, lot of old hulks wouldn't bring as much as a good used car. And then again women are eccentric. Oh yes, I know. Men too.

Happy days may be here again, but if they are it's after a tooth quits aching, says a friend who had just emerged from the dentist's office. There isn't anything I know of that takes the joy out of life like a throbbing tooth. It unites you for work or recreation, it sours sweet disposition, and lowers the barometric spirit.

Looked like the week got off to a good start, so far as automotive intimacy is concerned. Twice during Monday forenoon cars looked bumpers between Fifth and Sixth. Damage nil but interest peek. Just let two cars collide and you are sure of an audience.

News tips at 1:10 a. m. are indicative that you have a friend on the other end of the line, but how you hate to get up in the morning. And another at 5:40 to emphasize the first call shows an insistence that is commendable, even if it is a reluctant acceptance. Thanks anyway. I was lucky getting to the phone. There wasn't a chair in the way. Which reminds me during my newspaper adolescence that I was so anxious to get "all the news" that I put a notice in the paper to call me any time, and a good friend sent in a phone call at midnight to give me an unimportant item. I just took in too much territory.

Yes, Mr. Lamb, the yellow envelope has been left at my door, and I'll see you in your office first—then I'll pay you. Understand there has been a "lift" in the what-you-owe-us this year, but inasmuch as we are spending more money how could it be otherwise. The fiddler's got to be paid, ain't he. And then one grammarian comes along and says there "ain't" no "ain't," so what's that got to do with taxes, anyway.

Threatened to go down and visit Basil Smith, the newly appointed county clerk, and he said it would be all right. That's a better reception than I expected. I've been going in and out of the clerk's office for many years, and I've seen Basil hanging around there most of the time. Always got along nicely with him and Al Hitchcock. May they continue in an office, which has been well managed, for many years to come.

You know I've got to get the fem friend to open up a school of instruction and tell our side whether the fems are going or standing still or are on their way. There are so many corners to the modern hats that I'm all confused. Of course if they take hold of my hand and lead me I'll at least know which way I'm going.

Patrol Denies 'Shakedown' Charge

TURMOIL IS CAUSED BY ACCUSATION

State, San Clemente Police Reply

A threatened investigation of "totally" unfounded charges that two Orange county highway patrolmen had taken $300 from a man they arrested for drunk driving had stirred up a hot-bed of indignation among local officers. Other sources, meanwhile, blamed E. Raymond Cato, state highway patrol chief, for permitting what was termed a "ridiculous accusation" to become a scandal.

Cato, it was charged, had told press service in Sacramento that he planned to investigate the charges, before he had even contacted Captain H. C. Meehan of the Orange county patrol. It later developed the highway patrol (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

COP CRUSADE HITS SNAG

Supervisor Harry Riley put his foot down today. In setting it down, he stopped another discussion of more police protection for the south coast district, and sent Capt. George Portus of Laguna Beach off on another search for a pair of officers.

"It looks good from your standpoint," said Riley, when Portus asked for two more deputy sheriffs who would live and work in the coast area, "but it doesn't look so good from the standpoint of the third district. I wouldn't be a party to doing anything like that—segregating one district and helping them."

"I'm going to keep on coming in," said Portus as he left, "until I get what I want or get thrown out."

First Birthday For Newscasts

The JOURNAL'S on the air!

One year ago today KVOE listeners heard Frank Orr preface the first Journal newscast in this manner, as a service that has increased in popularity as each successive broadcast was launched. With the close of the first year last night at nine o'clock 1484 15-minute news periods had been presented to the local radio audience.

Four times a day, Monday through Saturday, your Journal news reporter brings you latest news through the facilities of the Associated Press and the local and county staffs of The Journal. Significant to Santa Ana and Orange county is the fact that this KVOE-Journal radio news service is the only one bringing news of the Orange Empire. Thousands of Santa Ana and Orange county residents have heard the names of their friends or themselves mentioned in news of local interest.

For almost a year Frank Orr, of The Journal staff, presented these lively, interesting news periods. During that time he built up a large, appreciative audience. His name and voice became a county-wide byword.

SPAIN BLOCKADE BRINGS NEW CRISIS

SHIPS, PLANES TO BE USED BY FRANCO

Long Line May Halt Royalists' Supplies

LONDON. (AP) — Mediterranean tension was heightened today by reports that Spain's insurgents were throwing a tight air and naval blockade along the entire Eastern Spanish coast to cut the Valencia government off from outside help by way of the high seas.

Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's strategy sharply increased the danger of international complications in the Mediterranean.

He was believed planning to rely largely on planes based on the Balearic island, Mallorca, to rule shipping lanes and cut off Valencia and Barcelona from food and munitions.

Admiral Francisco Moreno Fernandez, at Palma, Mallorca, had 35 ships at his command to build the sea blockade. Three were sighted off Valencia last night.

U. S. Unemployed Figure Drops

NEW YORK. (AP) — The number of unemployed in the United States in September dropped 134,000 from August to 6,066,000, the National Industrial Conference board, a research organization supported by private business corporations, reported in an estimate today.

The September decline reversed an upswing from July to August which followed a succession of monthly decreases since January.

FLYERS TO JUMP GUN ON SANTA

OKLAHOMA CITY. (AP) — Three Oklahomans jumped the gun on Santa Claus today.

They started out with $3000 and a speedy airplane to provide a Merry Christmas for the state's 2000 orphans.

The last legislature created the Santa Claus commission, gave it $2000 for the kiddies' Christmas and named Erle P. Halliburton, wealthy oil man, chairman.

"That isn't enough," said Halliburton, and tossed in his personal check for $1000. He offered his powerful airplane for a hop around the state this week-end to determine the children's needs.

"I'm going to ask wealthy men over the state to kick in with contributions," Halliburton said, setting a goal of $12,000 to $15,000. "We'll give the kids a real Christmas."

GUNS MENACE U. S. WARSHIP

SHANGHAI. (AP) — Huge projectiles from Japanese warships in the Whangpoo river tonight menacingly close to the United States cruiser Augusta.

The Augusta, lying close to the cruiser Izumo, Japanese flagship, cleaned her decks and batted portholes as a precaution for the safety of her crew.

The bombardment was aimed at Chinese batteries in industrial Pootung, across the Whangpoo from the international settlement. It was in answer to Chinese artillery shelling of Japanese forces in the Yangtzeopoo and Hongkew sectors of the Shanghai front.

Exploding bombs and shells shook buildings as far away as Shanghai's bund, but no projectiles fell within the settlement or concession boundaries.

At St. John's university, in the Jessfield Park area just west of the settlement, a trench mortar shell crashed into the roof of a gymnasium used as a barracks by (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

GUNMEN SLAY RICH CHINESE

CHICAGO. (AP) — The slaying of Chin Jack Lan, 61, wealthy and powerful Chinese merchant, sent reverberations through Chicago's Chinatown today.

Lan was walking in the rain last night when his assailant crept up behind, touched him on the shoulder and fired four shots as he turned.

The victim's sons told police their father had given a large Chinese war relief fund to the Chinese embassy at Washington, D. C., but had refused to contribute to funds collected here. They viewed the refusal as the motive for the assassination.

NATION EYES VOTING IN 15 STATES

Vote May Show Trend Of U. S. Politics

(By the Associated Press)

Voters in 15 states cast ballots today in local elections which may provide an indication of national political trends.

Personalities rather than national issues, however, dominated the off-year elections of mayors in more than 30 cities, legislatures in five states, governors in Virginia and New Jersey and four congressmen to fill vacancies in New York and Virginia.

Detroit's non-partisan election shared attention with the New City mayoralty battle. Patrick H. O'Brien, endorsed by the Committee for Industrial Organization, contested Richard W. Reading, supported by the American Federation of Labor, for the Detroit mayor's post.

OPPOSES LA GUARDIA

Some of the winners in today's balloting may receive consideration as 1940 presidential timber. Political observers mentioned three men especially in that connection:

Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York, seeking reelection with the backing of an unusual coalition of Republicans, Laborites, Socialists and Communists.

U. S. Senator A. Harry Moore and State Senator Lester H. Clee, contesting for the governorship of New Jersey. Moore, a Democrat, has been governor twice. Clee, a Republican, is a Presbyterian minister.

NOTED JOCKEY DEATH VICTIM

REDWOOD CITY. (AP) — Death from a heart attack yesterday took Harry Morrissey, 62, former jockey who became nationally known as a horse race starter.

Currently employed at Bay Meadows track, he had started horses at virtually every big race track in the country the last 25 years. The veteran starter, whose first track job was in 1912 at Bay Meadows, gained his reputation in the days of the starting barrier, before the "gate" came into general use.

He started the famous "race of two centuries" between Man o' War and Sir Barton in 1920.

Close N. Y. Market For Election

NEW YORK. (AP) — The stock exchange, cut b exchange, and all other New York security and commodity markets were closed today, election day. Major markets in other sections of the country remained open. Markets in Chicago, Kansas City and New Orleans operated as usual.

Figures In N. Y. Election

AGAINST EXTRAVAGANCE in government and political waste of public funds, New York's Mayor Fiorello La Guardia campaigned for a second term.

... AGAINST RACKETEERS fought dynamic Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey, Republican candidate seeking election as New York county district attorney.

$62,000 BEAN LANDS SOLD

Two pieces of valuable bean land changed hands today in deals involving $62,000.

In one of the deals Ernest Lagier, Tustin rancher, purchased 40 acres of bean land from Frank Walker, who farms a big tract in the Bolsa district. The purchase price was $28,000, and the property is located on Newport road south of Santa Ana.

The second deal resulted in transfer of ownership of 60 acres of bean land from the Santa Ana Mortgage and Investment company to Frank Walker. This property sold for $34,000 and is located just south of Bolsa.

Both deals were handled by C. M. McCain, prominent local real estate broker.

New Ferry for Newport Planned

Possibility of a new ferry service covering nearly all of Newport harbor was indicated at a meeting of the Newport city council last night when J. A. Beek, who now operates ferries from Balboa to Balboa Island, suggested installation of a new line using five boats.

Two additional piers for landing would be needed, Beek said, with public landings to be used at other points.

GUNMEN DIE IN AMBUSH

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — A squad of sheriff's deputies and postal inspectors shot it out with two men they trapped in the Smith's Creek postoffice at 1:30 a. m. today, killed both of them and blew the one-story frame building full of holes.

An alert village policeman, who sensed a postoffice holdup burglary last Saturday, made the showdown possible.

Sheriff William Van Antwerp, who led the raiding party, said the dead men were Detroit hoodlums who had been under surveillance since Saturday.

He identified one as John Novak, alias Shorty Jack, 38, and described him as a police character. The other man was identified from papers in his pockets as Edward Scherer, Detroit.

The sheriff with three deputies and two postal inspectors gathered at Smith's Creek, a village near Port Huron, Sunday after Special Deputy Harry Neal, general store proprietor and only law enforcement officer in the village, reported the presence of two suspicious characters loitering at the postoffice.

Sheriff Van Antwerp ordered the men to surrender after his squad had surrounded the small building, 20 by 35 feet. There was no response. A tear gas bomb then was hurled inside and the intruders opened fire with pistols.

SEEK FACTS ON EMPLOYER ACTIVITIES

Report Business Men In Secret Pact

Organized labor in Orange county today had under way a quiet but determined investigation into reports of anti-union activities on the part of certain employers.

The action came after a meeting of about 50 employers and representatives of employers in Santa Ana to discuss a secret program for keeping out what were termed "labor racketeers."

Secretary J. A. Trendle of the Orange County Central Labor council told The Journal today that the council has named a delegate to probe into the situation. Trendle said that reports have reached the labor council to the effect that employers were planning to organize into a secret, anti-union group.

And while the labor council was investigating the matter, news came here in the Washington Merry-Go-Round that certain employer groups in various parts of the country are in for some embarrassing disclosures when the senate civil liberties investigating committee resumes its public hearings shortly.

"The committee," the article sent to The Journal said, "headed by dynamic Senator Bob La Follette, has been secretly probing several anti-union movements and (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

LUJAN TURNS DOWN JOB

Matt Lujan, the chubby and usually docile "mayor" of Delhi, doesn't want to be city engineer. But he still wants Delhi's streets fixed, and last night at the council meeting he tangled with Councilman Ernest H. Layton about the matter.

For many long months Lujan has been trying to get Layton, who is the street commissioner, to do something about Delhi's streets. Layton and City Engineer J. L. McBride looked the streets over, but nothing has been done.

With the rainy season coming on, Lujan fears that the Delhi streets will become a mess of mud again, making them impassable.

MATTER DEFERRED

Lujan demanded to know what, if anything, is going to be done about the Delhi streets. He charged that on the American side of the district the streets are in good repair, but on the Mexican side nothing has been done to alleviate the situation.

"The matter," Mr. Layton said, "has been deferred. I guess you know what that means, don't you?"

Councilman Joseph P. Smith asked Layton to make a report on the Delhi streets, pointing out carefully that he and McBride were to make such a report back to the council.

WRONG TACTICS

Layton addressed his next remarks to Lujan. "I think it's improper for you to come to the council with this matter," he said. "It should be treated at the city engineer's office. I suggest that you prepare plans for the streets and bring them to the city engineer."

"I don't want to take the part of the city engineer," Delhi's "mayor" retorted.

Smith stuck up for Lujan. "It's not up to Lujan to do that," he said.

AT WITS' END

"Well," said Layton, "we've done all we can. We plan to alleviate conditions as they occur. If the streets are impassable because of mud holes, we'll help. We have no money for permanent repairs, but we want to fix the streets so doctors and the mail can get through. It would cost more to fix the streets than the lots are worth, and there is no through traffic on the streets. I'm at my wits' end in the matter."

Finally Layton promised again that he would see Lujan in a couple of days and fix the matter up, if possible.

Denies 'Reporter' Is Given Away

W. P. Hagthorn, publisher of the Orange County Reporter, the legal daily in which city advertising is placed, today flatly denied that his paper is distributed free. He said subscribers pay for it by the year, and that only a few free copies are left at the courthouse.

S. A. TURNS DOWN ORANGE PLEA FOR SEWER DISTRICT PARLEY

WITHDRAWAL THREATS DRAW DEF

Thinly veiled threats of the city of Orange to launch a legal battle to withdraw from the joint outfall sewer district were answered by the Santa Ana city council last night with a flat refusal to negotiate with Orange for withdrawal of that city from the district.

Orange sent a resolution to Santa Ana and other cities and sanitary districts in the joint outfall district. The resolution pointed out that Orange wants to withdraw, and has submitted a project for building its own sewage disposal plant to the WPA.

OFFER MADE

Orange said it wants to settle the matter in an amicable manner, without litigation, and offered to withdraw as of Nov. 1, 1937. The city offered to convey to the remaining cities and sanitary districts Orange's title and interest in the joint outfall if Orange is permitted to use the system for a year without cost, and on a reasonable rental basis after that time until the Orange plant is completed.

When the Santa Ana city council read the resolution last night, members at once asked City Attorney L. W. Blodgett to draft a resolution expressing their viewpoints.

This resolution, forwarded to Orange and other members of the district, was adopted unanimously. It said that the withdrawal of Orange is not advantageous, and would result in a bigger burden for repairs and maintenance on other members.

URGE COOPERATION

No party to the outfall sewer agreement should be allowed to escape from its proper share of the burden, after having received benefits of the disposal system, which now needs repairs, it said.

It was recommended to the city of Orange and other members of the joint outfall district, that all parties concerned try to cooperate on a procedure and plan for continuing maintenance, repair and upkeep of the joint outfall. It was suggested that a meeting of all parties concerned be held, looking toward abandonment of the offer of Orange to withdraw.

Mayor Fred C. Rowland said if Orange withdraws, there is nothing to prevent other cities and districts from withdrawing. It was pointed out that Santa Ana is responsible for 45 per cent of the costs of the line. Councilman Plummer Bruns said Santa Ana doesn't want a sewage disposal plant in "its front yard."

line as an efficient news editor and announcer.

On Oct. 16 The Journal launched an enlarged news service with four daily broadcasts at 8:30 a. m., 12:30, 4:30 and 9 p. m. At this time Dave Deihl joined The Journal staff to concentrate exclusively on radio news reporting.

Extending congratulations on this news service today on its first anniversary were many prominent Santa Anans. Their comments follow:

Ben Kennedy, president of the chamber of commerce:

"As a representative of the chamber of commerce and as a private citizen, may I offer you my congratulations on the first anniversary of your news broadcasts. You are the only news service that covers the local field, and it is splendidly covered."

Dr. John Brown Mason, educator and lecturer:

"I wish to congratulate The Journal on the first anniversary of the news broadcast. In making important news available to the public in an objective and interesting manner through the medium of radio, you are rendering a valuable public service."

Dr. G. Emmett Raitt:

"I look forward to your 9 o'clock broadcast every night. My wife and I never miss it. It is a fine service, and we appreciate it very much."

Joe Steele, Main street barber:

"We never miss that 8:30 a. m. broadcast. The customers come in for their morning shave and rely on The Journal, newscast to give them the news. And we usually hear the one at 12:30 and always tune in for 4:30 in the afternoon. We sure would miss them if they stopped. They're good."

Councilman William Penn:

"I like the news broadcasts very much. In addition to the local news presented over your broadcasts, I find the national and international news very interesting. Congratulations on your first anniversary."

Marx Brothers to Appeal

Following their conviction in federal court on a charge of infringing on a copyright and subsequent fines of $1000, Chico (left) and Groucho Marx, noted comedians, today were planning to appeal the case.

Fined $1000 Each, Marx Brothers To Appeal Case

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Groucho and Chico Marx, whose antics on stage, screen and radio have amused millions throughout the world, were today ready to take "to a higher court" their appeal from fines of $1000 each for copyright infringement.

Federal Judge George Cosgrave fined the comedians, and ordered them sent to jail pending payment of fines. However, the Marx brothers previously had arranged for an appeal bond, and they were ordered released immediately.

The brothers were convicted last Saturday in 47 minutes by a jury which found that the comedians, in a radio broadcast, appropriated for their own use a serial written by Carroll and Garrett Graham. The Graham brothers asserted they submitted the serial to the Marx brothers, and that it was later returned to them.

REBEL BLOCKADE U. S. WATCHES ELECTION FIGHT

Government Spain by sea, insurgent air and land forces would press either to split the frontier connection between Valencia's territory and France or drive a wedge in government territory, or both.

The appearance of the three insurgent warships off Valencia and the sinking of the British merchantman Jean Weems three days ago by an insurgent bombing plane as she carried a food cargo from Marseille toward Barcelona apparently marked inauguration of a more stringent blockade.

INVOLVES BRITAIN

It seemed inevitable that this would further involve British and French shipping.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden announced the opening of conversations between Britain and France on means of strengthening provisions of the Nyon anti-piracy agreement against aircraft attacks on shipping.

Eden did this yesterday in a re-sounding speech on British policy in the house of commons on the eve of his departure to Brussels for the conference on the Chinese-Japanese war.

That announcement, with the dispatching of the battle cruiser Hood to Barcelona to investigate the attack on the Jean Weems, caused observers to wonder if Britain would carry this strong new front into the Spanish non-intervention sub-committee meeting this afternoon.

The American government turned down the invitation on the grounds that it repeatedly had expressed an intention of refraining from any interference in the Spanish situation.

The note expressed the "very earnest hope" of the American government and people "that a peaceful method of terminating this strife may be found."

British troops, but none was injured.

The tide of battle swept toward the Siccawei Catholic mission center on the southwestern outskirts of the French concession. French authorities prepared defense positions circling the mission and set up anti-aircraft guns.

A Japanese naval officer described as closed a Soochow creek incident which yesterday produced an American protest and a Japanese apology. The officer said Japanese bluejackets sent back to the American-protected zone a junk seized on the international settlement side of the stream.

LENGTHEN LINES

The Japanese bombardment was designed to pulverize Chinese defenses extending west from the international settlement south of Soochow creek. Despite Chinese assertions to the contrary, foreign observers reported that Japanese on the southern bank of the stream had expanded their front for approximately a mile on each side of Rubicon village.

Negotiations were under way among French, Chinese and Japanese authorities to outline a protective neutral zone around the mission properties. It was learned that representatives of the three powers were meeting to consider an agreement to insure the safety of the priests, nuns and refugees.

The properties include a cathedral, convent and observatory. The proposed agreement was understood to provide that French patrols police the mission territory, and that the possibility of a long term lease be negotiated later.

REPULSE ATTACK

Japanese attempted time and again to cross a railroad bridge over Soochow creek near St. John's university, only to be repulsed in hand-to-hand fighting.

Early today a number of Chinese reinforcements moved up to front lines adjacent to the international settlement. Chinese apparently were bolstering their right wing to keep from being pushed back along the Shanghai-Hankow railway, which Japanese subjected to continuous bombardment.

General Chang Fah-Kwei, commander of the "ironclad army" in South and Central China, was said to be in command of all Chinese forces south of Soochow creek. It was indicated the Chinese planned desperate resistance to the Japanese attempt to encircle Shanghai.

Japanese suffered heavy casualties in attempts to throw a pontoon bridge over the creek.

MAY URGE JAPAN TO ATTEND PARLEY

BRUSSELS, Belgium. (AP)—A movement was under way today to give Japan another chance to participate in the Brussels conference on the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

Several delegations indicated they favor sending another invitation to Tokyo after the conference starts tomorrow.

Japan rejected the original invitation on the ground that the conference inspired by the League of Nations, which already had condemned Japanese military action in China.

DAVIS DECLINES 9-POWER LEADERSHIP

BRUSSELS, Belgium. (AP)—Norman H. Davis, it was learned today, has declined an unofficial bid to preside at the Brussels conference on the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

Davis, head of the American delegation to the conference opening tomorrow, declined, with thanks, the offer to make him president.

Stanley M. Bruce of Australia, who presided at the conference in Montreux, Switzerland, in 1936, which gave Turkey the right to re-arm the Dardanelles, was mentioned as a possible choice. Some Scandinavian delegate also may be considered.

FDR REGISTERS AS 'FARMER'

HYDE PARK, N. Y. (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt was voter No. 299 in the state, town and county election here today.

The president went to town hall, satisfied election inspectors he was qualified to vote and operated the voting machine.

"What is your name?" Miss Alma Van Curan, chairman of the district election board, asked the chief executive.

"Franklin D. Roosevelt," he answered with a smile.

"Occupation?"

THEFT STORY DENIED BY CAPT. MEEHAN

A statement indignantly denying that the California highway patrol was involved in a charge by W. A. Curtis, Hollywood, that $300 had been taken from him when he was arrested on drunk driving charges, was made today by Capt. H. C. Meehan of the highway patrol.

In another statement, Chief of Police Wendell Lovell of San Clemente indignantly denied charges that his forces had "rolled" Curtis.

Captain Meehan's statement:

NO FOUNDATION

"Reports published yesterday (not in The Journal) to the effect that certain highway patrolmen of this county were accused of having taken $300 from a man arrested on a charge of drunk driving are without foundation.

"The facts are that no such arrest was made by the highway patrol. The reports evidently arose as the result of an arrest made by members of the San Clemente police force.

On Saturday evening, according to a statement made by San Clemente police, W. A. Curtis, Hollywood, was picked up on a drunk driving charge. He seems to have charged, after his release on bail, that the arresting officers took the money away from him.

"I greatly regret that the reports published were not properly verified, since it would have been found that the highway patrol was in no way involved in the matter. I have in my possession a statement of the facts as given by the chief of police of San Clemente."

HAD ONLY $35

Chief Lovell's statement follows:

"Charges that our officers took $300 from Mr. Curtis are totally unfounded. He made a statement before three witnesses in the San Clemente police station Saturday that he left home with only about $35. He said he had been in Los Angeles drinking and playing the horses since then and had lost the biggest part of the money then.

"He was released on bond later that night, but we intend to go through with the drunk driving charges against him."

CANCEL CONCERT

Tomorrow's regular Federal Music project band concert in Birch park has been cancelled, project officials announced today. The weekly concert schedule will be resumed next week.

One of the first theaters in Natchez, Miss., built about 1828, was constructed over a graveyard.

Police Chief Wendell Lovell of San Clemente today told The Journal Curtis had made a statement before three witnesses in his office Saturday that he had only $35 when he left home, and that he had been playing the horses in Los Angeles and lost most of it since then.

but not where. The millinery construction to me is a cross word puzzle.

Two years ago, the legal tangle was the other way around. Mrs. Bernice Harper had signed a complaint charging Riddle with disturbing the peace. He pleaded not guilty and was acquitted.

Judge Morrison relied on the bail, released Harper on his own recognizance and set a preliminary hearing for 9 a. m. Thursday.

He is accused of stealing two chickens from Riddle's chicken coop, 903 East St. Gertrude place.

"It's no felony—just a family feud."

With that statement, a new chapter in the time-worn battle between the Harpers and the Riddles got under way in Santa Ana justice court yesterday.

The remark was made before Judge Kenneth E. Morrison by Earl Harper, 39, 2019 South Kilson drive, bewildered by the $10,000 bail set for the burglary charge he faces.

SHADOW ON PATROL

The reported investigation, as related by another Santa Ana newspaper (not The Journal), Captain Meehan declared, "Can't help casting a shadow over the highway patrol here, when our service actually was in no way involved in the matter."

Curtis' charges, made in a telegram to Mayor Dan Mulherron of San Clemente, were made against San Clemente police, who denied the accusation as vigorously as did the highway patrol.

Curtis' telegram, in part:

"Last night (Saturday) at 8 p. m., passing through San Clemente, I was picked up in a very heavy fog with visibility of less than 15 feet and thrown into the San Clemente jail by two of your patrol on a drunk driving charge and robbed of $300 by these two officers, consisting of four $50 bill and five $20 bills."

SET PENALTY

"Under terms of the agreement, the firms not only fixed a common scale of wages, but agreed not to deal with or recognize 'any labor organization.' Members agreed to impose penalties up to $10,000 for violation of this secret anti-union alliance."

It is not yet known by labor leaders here whether terms of an extraordinary secret agreement entered into by the employers referred to in the article is similar to one which labor here has heard has been circulated.

Some of the terms of the agreement revealed in the article from Washington follow:

"During the period of this agreement, the company shall not enter into any agreement, either oral, written or implied, with any labor organization.

"The company shall deal directly with its own employees and shall not recognize or deal with any person or persons not on the company payroll in matters of individual or collective bargaining.

LABOR BACKS CIVIL SERVICE FOR POLICE, FIREMEN

RESOLUTION TELLS MERIT OF PROPOSAL

Actress

Organized labor shouldered arms on behalf of the county's fire and policemen today, in the shape of a resolution indorsing the proposed civil service ordinance for those departments, and calling on all members of the labor group to support the proposition at the polls Nov. 16.

The resolution recommended the proposal as a definite move toward increasing efficiency in the two departments, and removing them from the "spoils system" of political control.

Secretary J. A. Trendle of the Central Labor council, presented the resolution, which passed unanimously following approval of the executive board at last night's council meeting.

SOUND PRINCIPLE

"The principle of the merit system," the resolution stated in part, "as found in civil service, had been demonstrated in federal, state and municipal service to be thoroughly sound and practical for promoting efficiency."

Members of the board who discussed the resolution prior to its adoption included Chairman J. F. Lincoln, R. C. Ewing, Ben Milligan, Harold Bisner, C. S. Morton, Steve Davidson and L. G. Jump.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas an election will be held in Santa Ana on Nov. 16, next, at which a proposal to place the Santa Ana fire and police departments under civil service will be submitted to the voters, and

"Whereas the principle of the merit system, as found in civil service, has been demonstrated in federal, state and municipal service to be thoroughly sound and practical for promoting efficiency, and

"Whereas this community is vitally interested in having competent men in its police and fire departments, for its general welfare and in particular for its protection in emergency, and

"Whereas, this body believes that justice and equity, for both employer and employee, will be served by adoption of the civil service proposition heretofore mentioned, now, therefore, be it

"Resolved that the Orange County Central Labor union does hereby endorse the civil service proposal for Santa Ana fire and police departments, and recommends to organized labor and the general public that this proposal be approved at the polls on Nov. 16."

"Done in open meeting this first day of November, 1937."

APPOINT TWO AUTO LICENSE EXAMINERS

Appointment of permanent drivers' license examiners for Orange county, releasing two state highway patrolmen for outside work, was announced today by Paul Mason, chief of the Southern California division, state civil service commission.

Don Squires, veteran staff member of the highway patrol here, will hold one of the positions, Mason said. The other examiner will be Dahl, of Los Angeles.

Squires, who has been desk sergeant for the patrol for the past eight years, recently passed the state civil service examinations for the examiner's post, and was released for his new job this week by Capt. Henry Meehan.

Setting up of the permanent examiners here is in line with the recently announced policy of Governor Merriam to obtain maximum efficiency in the highway patrol, and competent examiners in other departments, Mason said.

Examiners will be on duty in the Santa Ana offices, on Highway 101 between here and Orange, Mondays, Fridays, Saturdays, and a half day on Thursday. One man will be in the following offices of the patrol as designated:

Orange, Tuesday, 9 a. m. to 12 noon; Anaheim, Tuesday, 1:30 to 4:30 p. m.; Fullerton, Wednesday, 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.; Huntington Beach, Wednesday, 9 a. m. to 12 a. m.; Newport Beach, Wednesday, 1:30 to 4:15 p. m.; Laguna Beach, Thursday, 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.; Tustin, Thursday, 9:30 a. m. to 12 noon; Brea, Friday, 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.

WAR PAINT FOR COUNTY G. O. P.

A Republican district convention was being planned today, as G. O. P. leaders laid lines for a campaign which they hope will defeat Congressman Harry Sheppard in 1938.

Thirty Orange county Republican leaders attended a meeting of central committees and the Republican assembly last night at Riverside, at which plans for the convention were brought forth.

Definite arrangements are in the hands of a committee of three persons from each of San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties. Orange county representatives on that group are Col. M. B. Wellington of Santa Ana, Leslie Kimmell of Laguna Beach and Lotus Louden of Anaheim.

The convention probably will be held during March, giving voters a chance to see who they will decide on in the primaries and a chance to express their opinions before the actual campaign starts.

The committee will meet for more definite arrangements in Riverside a week from tonight.

STRIPES NEAR FOR YODER

Virtual assurance that Floyd Yoder, Orange county highway patrolman, would be offered a captaincy within a few days was received today, following announcement that he is No. 1 in the entire state on the eligible list.

Chief E. Raymond Cato of the state highway patrol, released the eligible list yesterday. George Peterkin, another highway patrolman in this county, ranks seventh, and also is likely to be offered a captaincy before the present eligible list expires.

The list was compiled from results of civil service examinations taken last June.

CHURCH BUYS ROYER ESTATE

Purchase of the Lutheran Evangelical church of the five-acre Royer estate in Anaheim, on which a home for aged members of the church will be established, was verified today by the Rev. H. G. Schmelzer, pastor of Zion Lutheran church, Anaheim.

The Rev. Mr. Schmelzer said a bequest of $8000 and several downtown Anaheim lots would be used for establishment of the home and creation of a fund for its operation.

Approximately $2000 will be invested in rehabilitation of the old building and landscaping of grounds, Rev. Schmelzer said.

FARM BUREAU CHIEFS WILL MEET HERE

A "miniature convention" of farm bureau representatives from five Southern California counties will be held at the Orange County Farm bureau office on North Main street Saturday.

The Southern California farm leaders, representing region No. 1, will discuss problems scheduled to face the state farm bureau convention in Modesto later this month, and region-wide policies will be adopted, according to R. J. McFadden, state convention delegate from Orange county.

The pre-convention meeting Saturday will open with eight separate group discussions. These will include the women's department, citrus, poultrymen's, dairymen's, vegetable and field crop departments, tax committee representatives and a meeting of the voting delegates from the five southern counties.

Reports on the group meeting will be made at an afternoon session, which will be highlighted by discussion of the proposed federal agricultural act by R. W. Blackburn, president of the California Farm Bureau federation. Blackburn will outline the present policy of the farm bureau toward the proposed federal act, which is one of the principal reasons facing the special congressional session.

More than 100 farm leaders, including both men and women, are expected to attend the meeting.

ADMITS $4000 FARM THEFT

After confessing to a long series of thefts from the employers who had trusted him implicitly for more than 14 years, Hubert Huijnen, 47, Placentia, today awaited arraignment on burglary charges in which he is accused of stealing nearly $4000 worth of farm equipment.

Huijnen was arrested last night after deputy sheriffs had made a thorough search of a shed near Garden Grove in which the man assertedly had stored several truck loads of articles believed taken from the Kraemer brothers' ranch on Bradford avenue near Placentia.

Gilbert and Louis Kraemer, who run the ranch along with their brother, Lawrence Kraemer, checked over the articles. Deputy Jim Musick and G. F. McKelvey discovered and identified nearly $4000 worth as having been taken from their ranch during the past five years.

Confronted with this evidence, Huijnen was reported to have made a full confession. Deputy sheriffs said he promised to identify all of the stolen property this afternoon following his arraignment before Justice of the Peace Halsey I. Spence of Fullerton.

Huijnen said he had stored all the property in the Garden Grove shed because he intended to buy a ranch of his own shortly. Officers were led to the "cache" when they learned Huijnen had taken eight sacks of walnuts to Garden Grove and disposed of them mysteriously.

C. OF C. SEEKS NEW QUARTERS

A special committee named at a meeting of the chamber of commerce board of directors yesterday afternoon began today to seek new quarters for the chamber.

Comprised of Fred Merker, Clarence Holles, Harry Hanson and Irvie Stein, the committee was asked to look into all available places for leasing, and to get plans and definite costs for a new building.

The chamber has not yet definitely decided whether to lease quarters, or whether to build its own building.

Because the county needs the room for the expanding operations of the welfare department, the chamber must move. The board of supervisors offered the chamber $3500 for the building at the courthouse annex which now houses the chamber offices. The building belongs to the chamber, which was leasing the site from the county.

Fundamentally it's a question of value, or how much quality for how much money. Furniture at a price has no intrinsic value unless that price is based on quality. Low priced furniture is often cheaply made and is the most expensive to buy.

SUICIDE ARMY SORRY FOR RETREAT

General and Men Are Promoted by Kai-Shek

SHANGHAI. (AP)—Gen. Hsieh Chin-Yuan, commander of the Chinese "lost battalion" that defied the Japanese for four days in a chapel warehouse - citadel, declared today that his men withdrew sorrowfully.

Their two greatest griefs, he told the Associated Press in his first interview since the battalion evacuated were that they were forced to withdraw before sealing the struggle with their lives and that they could not return to the conflict.

RANK RAISED
Hsieh—promoted from colonel to general in recognition of the feat that raised all his men one rank—sat in a tiny canvas hut, no larger than a dog tent.

He declared his force of farmer-boy soldiers lost only 10 dead, not 100 as the Japanese have asserted.

Hsieh, who was the last to leave the burning warehouse Saturday to run the gauntlet of Japanese machine gun fire, blushed like a child when the Associated Press told him for the first time that Gen. Chiang-Kai-Shek had promoted him to general.

"But I don't deserve such an honor," he said.

All 370 survivors of the battalion of Chiang's own 88th division went safely through the Japanese line, Hsieh declared. He said 410 men originally entered the building and that there were only 40 casualties, including ten dead, during the four days they occupied it.

"The Japanese are bad marksmen," he explained. "They fire wildly when they are excited."

Hsieh said the order to evacuate came by telephone from Chiang at 9 p. m. Saturday but that he was afraid at first to inform his men because he thought they might revolt.

PENSION HEAD TO SURRENDER

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A. Brigham Rose, attorney for Robert Noble, father of the "25 every Monday morning" pension plan, indicated his client would surrender today on a charge of attempted extortion.

Rose got the bail in the case reduced yesterday from $10,000 to $1000. The contract between Noble of threatening to damage a radio station unless it gave him half an hour free time six days a week in which to promote his pension plan on the air.

Shortest Car Line to Be Discontinued

OAKLAND. (AP)—One of the shortest street car lines in the world—it carried passengers 200 yards—was abandoned today after 67 years of operation. It ran from Piedmont avenue and Mather street to and from Mount View cemetery. On its final run yesterday the squat little trolley carried a near capacity load, 11 passengers, mostly representatives of the California-Nevada Railroad Historical Society. More than a dozen times in recent years, the small car was spilled from the tracks by speeding automobiles.

Class to Hear of Civil Service

Next Thursday morning, Nov. 4, the public affairs class will have as a guest speaker, Mrs. Doris Haney Jones, who is chairman of the civil service commission in Santa Monica. Mrs. Jones has just returned from attending the civil service assembly of the United States and Canada in Ottawa, Canada.

Smoke Clouds Over Beleagured Shanghai

War unfurls its black banner across the skies of Shanghai. Here is a view across a section of Chapel, native quarter, as flames broke out during Japanese bombardment. Recently with Chinese defenders retreating, uncontrolled fire swept by a strong wind, roared through the once humanity-packed city, sealing its doom. Hundreds of buildings, many already damaged in the bitter conflict, were reduced to utter ruins.

CONCERT IS PLANNED FOR THURSDAY

Attention was called today to the concert to be presented by the Federal Music Project symphony orchestra scheduled for Thursday evening at the Santa Ana High school auditorium.

On this occasion which, according to Leon Eckles, project supervisor, inaugurates an exceptional concert series under these auspices for the fall and winter seasons, the project chorus will unite with the symphonic unit to present an extraordinarily fine program.

CAREFUL TRAINING

"Both the chorus and orchestra have undergone rigorous training in preparation for the performance," Eckles stated, "and every indication is that the concert will prove a memorable one in the music annals of Santa Ana."

The combined units, he pointed out, have made well over a hundred public appearances throughout the county.

"However," he said, "there may still be people in Santa Ana who are unfamiliar with the high standard of musicianship attained by the federal music project. The groups comprising the project are composed of the best talent available in Orange county and are well-outfitted organizations presenting finished performances which deserve the hearty support of the public."

VARIED PROGRAM

A program sufficiently varied to appeal to all tastes in music has been arranged, Eckles announced, with the chorus of 25 performing a group of three numbers accompanied by the 40-piece orchestra. The concert will begin promptly at 8:15 p. m. and will be presented at nominal admission prices.

The full program follows:

- I. Symphony in E Minor (New World)
- Adagio-Allegro molto
- Largo
- Scherzo-Molto Vivace
- Final allegro Con fuoco
- II. Omnipotence
- Springtime
- Hail, Bright Abode (Chorus and orchestra)
- (a) Andante Cantabile (Opus 1)
- (b) A Musical Snuffbox
- (c) Juba Dance
- IV. Phedre Overture

FORMER WAR FLYER KILLED

ROSEVILLE, Mich. (AP)—A stunt airplane piloted by a man whose flying experience began in the World War crashed here late yesterday, killing two persons and injuring one.

The dead were John T. Britt, 52, of Detroit, the pilot, and Dennis A. Keohane, 34, Detroit salesman for a Minneapolis Smelting and Refining company.

Taken unconscious from the wreckage was Mrs. Florence Mauser, 41, of Roseville. Her husband William described her as "always crazy about flying."

Department of commerce officials from Detroit began an investigation immediately and took statements from several witnesses.

Wombat Worries Zoo Officials; Wants to Sleep

PHILADELPHIA. (AP)—Wintry weather and "dizzy" the Australian Wombat, gave zoo officials fits for a while.

The Wombat has the legs of a dachshund, face of a pig and hibernation habits of a bear. The hibernating habits prompted him to start digging last week.

Today, his keepers had dug him out of a hole 10 feet long. They put him in a cage where he could not dig—and hoped that would hold him for a while.

Reservations for the meeting, to be held in the First Methodist church, are being taken at the church office.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

Every Townsend club officer and Townsend speaker in Orange county is requested to keep in mind that the Orange county Townsend Club Officers' association meets in Santa Ana Townsend hall at 509 West Fourth street at 7:30 tomorrow for the November meeting. Lettie E. Pickering, secretary, says: "Things of interest and importance will be discussed" and urges the attendance of club officers and speakers.

Anaheim club No. 1 is being honored in having Assemblyman Thomas Kuchel as its speaker at 7:30 tonight when it meets in the Townsend club building at 210 South Clementine street. Assemblyman Kuchel will talk on "The State Old Age Pension and the Work of the State Legislature." Kuchel was elected to the state legislature as a Republican in an election which is conceded to have been generally favorable to Democratic party candidates. It is generally believed the Townsend organization vote was the balance of power which made possible his election. He has not forgotten his obligation to the Townsends and frequently appears before the Townsend clubs. This club will serve a chicken dinner in the club building at 6 p. m. next Thursday. More particulars tomorrow night. Ida A. Freeman, president, urges the public to hear Assemblyman Kuchel tonight.

Santa Ana club No. 8 is meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Lincoln school on French street in the 1400 block with J. H. Nicholson, president in the chair. Rev. Ida L. Ewing, pastor of the Cosmic Unity church of 501 East Fourth street, will be the evening speaker. President Nicholson has been struggling to recover from an attack of the influenza epidemic now prevalent but expects to be able to be present tonight. Mrs. Ewing is said to be a good speaker. The public is welcome.

W. A. Zimmerman, president of Santa Ana club No. 5, has been very ill but has sufficiently recovered from a very serious operation to be brought home as was done Saturday evening. He is still unable to receive visitors but is gradually gaining strength which will be pleasing news to his many friends. His club meets at 7:30 this evening in the Richmond Methodist church at South Parton and Richmond streets. J. A. Yerger, vice president, will preside. Another member of this club who has been ill a long time but is gradually recovering is Mrs. W. T. Miller of 920 1/2 South Parton. Her many friends will be glad when she can be out again.

Santa Ana club No. 6 will meet at 7:30 this evening in the Community building of the First Christian church at West Sixth and North Broadway. A. M. Mapes will preside. Mr. and Mrs. Mapes report a pleasant and profitable evening spent with the Huntington Beach club last Thursday night when Mapes functioned as speaker and also auctioneer at a box supper which was staged. The boxes all sold at good prices and a substantial sum was realized for the club treasury.

J. Etta Bryant announces a pot-luck dinner will be held at 11:30 tomorrow noon by the Ladies' Orange county Townsend auxiliary in Santa Ana Townsend hall at 509 West Fourth street. Come early and bring a covered dish and so forth as it is an all day meeting. Every Townsend lady in Orange county is invited to be present. Walter R. Robb will speak briefly during the noon hour. The time is rapidly approaching for the Orange county bazaar which will be held Dec. 1, 2, 3 and 4 in the hall. Matters of importance in this connection will be discussed at tomorrow's meeting.

Next Friday evening in Townsend hall at 509 West Fourth street, Santa Ana club No. 10 has arranged to hold a box supper. The boxes will be auctioned off but no box is to bring more than 40 cents the way the writer understands it. The big attraction of the evening in addition to the supper will be Charles C. Jesse, Los Angeles Townsend speaker who will bring the address to the group who will assemble in a business meeting at 7:30. Townsend ladies of other clubs are requested to come bringing boxes to be sold. A jolly good time is expected.

CALLANDER. (AP)—The Dionne quintuplets sang "Marlborough Going to War" and heard the story of the Little Red Hen today, oblivious to the fact that great scientific minds were pondering their future.

When shall they be brought in closer contact with life as it is lived? How shall they be educated when they get beyond their present nursery-school stage? Shall they continue to be shown to the public, which comes thousands of miles to see them from behind a screen—and takes away pebbles as souvenirs from the nursery ground?

Those were questions discussed by biologists, medical experts and educators as "the Dionne quintuplet special" took them away from the pine and birch clad slopes of Callander after a trek from a Toronto conference on the quint's progress.

One-Fifth of Women in U.S. Are Employed, Report Shows

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The Women's bureau estimated today that more than one-fifth of the women in the United States are gainfully employed.

More than one-third of this group of 10,752,000 also are home makers.

An estimated one-tenth are the entire support of families of two or more persons; many others assist in supporting families.

Wages in women's jobs invariably are at a lower level than those of men in identical industries.

These conclusions were contained in a report written by Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon, bureau research chief, to answer a query from the international labor office at Geneva on the economic status of women in this country.

She found that three-tenths of the working women are in domestic and personal service, and three-fourths of women profes-

No immediate changes are contemplated in the quint's regime, but these plans are under consideration.

1. Building of a school near the nursery, where the sisters would be educated along with a group of other children who are physically fit and stimulating.
2. Acquisition of more land near the nursery so the quint's would have freer range.

The question of showing the quint's to the public is a problem more immediate than their future schooling, some experts believed.

Visitors have a tendency to exclaim, "the dears," or "hello, Marie," although signs hanging around the playground command, "Silence."

Dr. Dafoe, the quint's medical guardian, said the sisters have a very slight tendency to play to the gallery once in a while, and turn around and throw kisses.

Huge Oil Cargo Set for Japan

SAN PEDRO. (AP)—More than 2,000,000 barrels of California oil are due to be shipped to Japan during November.

Four Japanese tankers were in port today, loading 350,000 barrels of petroleum. Eighteen other tankers will participate in the record transportation project.

REZONING OF SOUTH S. A. DISCUSSED

Several confusing zoning problems were faced by the planning commission and city council when the two civic bodies met last night.

One problem resulted from an announced proposal to rezone the southwestern part of the city from heavy industry to single family residences.

Several property owners presented oral objections to the plan, claiming that the district already has been invaded by heavy industry and is ruined for a residential zone. They complained particularly of a bottling works and a truck freight service, that were particularly noisy.

Fifty-three property owners had signed a petition, asking that the zoning not be changed from heavy to residence.

OIL DRILLING

Members of the council explained that the property always had been zoned for residence, and that it was changed to heavy industry only to permit oil drilling in that section of town, when it was thought that there was oil in the district.

It was explained that the present move is only to restore the status of the district as it has been in the past, and to give the planning commission and council control over what type of business or industry is located in the district.

Because of the confusion over the matter, action was delayed until the planning commission can make a further investigation.

Because two different persons want to build two different types of buildings on the same piece of property, the council decided it was time to investigate the matter.

APARTMENT

James G. Smith sought permission to erect one four-unit apartment building on the northeast corner of Garnsey and Eighth streets, and a similar apartment house on the northwest corner of the same streets.

The mixup became apparent when William Uhm requested permission to build a duplex on the same corner where Smith had wanted to build an apartment building.

Because of the conflict, the city council deferred action on both proposals until the property lines can be straightened out.

Permission was granted Emmett C. Rogers to build a two-family residence at 1302 North Bristol. The council ordered the property rezoned from neighboring business to family residence.

FALL WALNUT IRRIGATION ESSENTIAL

Irrigation water should be applied to nearly all walnut orchards as soon as harvesting operations are complete, according to recommendations submitted this week to walnut growers of Orange county by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg.

Nearly all orchards were irrigated during the latter part of August or the first of September, and that supply has by this time undoubtedly been depleted. It would be injurious to the trees to allow them to become too dry before they go dormant.

MANY TREES DRY

"It is a well known fact that as long as leaves of the trees remain green the tree is using water," Wahlberg said. "It is true that much less has been used this fall than last. Nevertheless it is apparent to even a casual observer driving through the walnut areas that many trees are dry."

Here in Orange county where there is only a limited amount of cold weather it is essential that the trees go dormant naturally. They cannot be forced dormant by withholding water. Such practice would jeopardize the future health and vigor of the trees. It is better, therefore, to keep them in good growing condition and let dormancy come as a natural phenomenon, rather than an artificially created condition."

CONSERVATION

There is another advantage to a light irrigation at this time of the year, according to the farm advisor, and that is the conservation of small amounts of rainfall. If half or three-fourths of an inch of rain falls on totally dry soil it is largely lost by evaporation, unless another rain occurs in a very short time. If, on the other hand, the soil is moist that half inch or inch of rain will penetrate far enough to get beyond the reach of the surface evaporation, thus adding to the moisture reserve.

"In planning the furrowing system, allow a 'dry block' around the tree trunk for 'anchorage' in case a desert wind occurs during or soon after the application of water."

Board Protects Cotton Pickers

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—San Joaquin valley farmers seeking cotton pickers from the Los Angeles county relief administration lists must have their housing facilities approved by the citizens' relief committee.

The administration took this stand after a committee delegation made a three-day survey of farmers in Madera and Tulare counties and reported yesterday the housing for laborers ranged from neat wooden cabins to tattered tents without sanitary facilities.

Raise Special Deer for Special Hunters

When deer are not dear, but too plentiful, it becomes a problem for the government. In Pisgah national forest in North Carolina they multiplied so rapidly it became necessary to declare open season for designated periods. Beginning Nov. 1 the area will be thrown open to 2600 hunters, each specially licensed and allowed one deer. Here are some of the large numbers of fawns feeding at a special trough of "baby food."

'ELIXIR' IS SOUGHT IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Investigation of four deaths in California in the federal government's far-flung efforts to remove from the market a deadly sulfanilamide mixture was disclosed today by J. C. Morton, head of the United States Food and Drug Administration here.

Morton said the deaths, the first to come under investigation in California, occurred during recent months. He declined to give names of the deceased, but said they were a child in Fresno, a man and woman in Livermore and a sailor in San Diego.

The drug mixture, used for treatment of streptococci infections, is believed to have caused more than 55 deaths in other parts of the United States.

Morton declared that with the seizure of seven pints in a warehouse here today he believed the 11 far western states over which his office has jurisdiction "are clean."

Buddhism was introduced into China from India.

All the quarters are extremely crowded, they said, and most are poorly furnished.

Investigators said the average wage of 90 cents per 100 pounds for picking cotton appeared adequate.

Flake Smith Urges Council To Spare His Grove of Trees

Flake Smith, the assistant postmaster, doesn't want the city to hew down his wind-break.

He said so in a letter read at the city council meeting last night. He said he'd heard that the city had planned to widen West First street, and that this program would seriously interfere with his wind-break.

Smith owns 11 acres set to oranges, located 1000 feet east of Sullivan street with a frontage of 365 feet on First street.

He has 11-year-old eucalyptus trees and pine trees planted in the wind-break, and half of the trees extend into the street, should it be widened. He asked if it would be feasible to trim the trees, and leave them standing until the cement curbing is installed.

The communication was received and filed, and councilmen indicated that they think the request is premature, because there are no immediate plans for widening of the street.

'Corpse' Arrives Home And Spoils Good Murder Case

An "airtight" murder case, lacking only the victim's body, was climaxed last night when deputy sheriffs and Orange police found the "body" for which they'd been frantically searching since Oct. 8.

It was alive and healthy! Mrs. Louisa Lopez, 22-year-old Orange woman who disappeared nearly a month ago, walked calmly into the El Modena home where she formerly had lived with her husband, Louis Lopez, 28.

He had been arrested on suspicion of murdering her, and subsequently released when officers could not find the "corpus delicti."

Mrs. Lopez told police she had gone directly from her home to the Orange bus station on the memorable night of Oct. 8, and that she had been "hiding out" in Los Angeles ever since.

Lopez, she said, had beaten and threatened her that night, and she explained she had been terrified. Afraid he would try to find her when he awakened, she did not stay with relatives in Los Angeles, but got a job in a hotel there, she said.

Believing her husband had calmed down by now, Mrs. Lopez returned to El Modena on a bus last night. Orange police learned of her return and notified the sheriff's office.

PARENT STUDY CIRCLE SLATED

Second in a series of joint study circles sponsored by the parent education chairman of Wilson and Jefferson Parent-Teacher associations will be presented in the Wilson grammar school auditorium at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

An "Explanation of the Delayed Reading Program" will be given by Miss Hubert Kuneman, elementary supervisor, and the discussion period will be led by the regular leader, Miss Nell Hunt, of the adult education department.

The remainder of the five discussions will include a suggested reading course for children, the relation of interior decoration to child behavior, and other phases of child psychology. The series has been planned by Mrs. C. M. Gilbert, adult education chairman at Wilson, and Mrs. John Desmond of Jefferson.

Punishment Is Lesson Topic

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the lesson-sermon on Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. The golden text was from the Psalms: "Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, O LORD, and teachest him out of thy law."

The lesson-sermon included these Bible verses from Ezekiel: "The word of the LORD came unto me again, saying: 'The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die. All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him; in his righteousness that he hath done he shall live.'"

Among the correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, were the words: "Sin makes its own hell and goodness its own heaven."

LaFollette III On Panama Trip

COLON, Panama. (AP)—Governor Philip M. LaFollette of Wisconsin was reported improving at the United States government hospital here today from a severe attack of influenza.

LaFollette was removed to the hospital yesterday from the United Fruit Line steamer Quirigua on which he and his wife were making a cruise.

A hospital bulletin said the governor's condition was satisfactory and that there were no complications.

CLASSES FOR PARENTS SET AT SCHOOL

School days are here again for those who attended the P-T.A. meeting at the Senior High school tonight at 7:30. In addition, there will also be a skating party at high school, restricted to students who persuade their parents or anyone interested to attend the meeting.

After first meeting in the auditorium, parents will follow the class schedules of an ordinary school day for their boy or girl. Teachers will be in their rooms to explain the courses briefly. In some classes students will work at the projects which occupy them during the day.

There are six class periods in a student's school day, and parents will remain in each class for 10 minutes. Five minute passing periods will be allowed between classes. School will close at 9:10. Refreshments will be served in the loggia.

This plan is intended to establish better understanding and co-operation between the home and school. Invitations from Mrs. O. K. Heine, president of the Parent-Teacher association, and Lynn H. Crawford, principal of Santa Ana Senior High school.

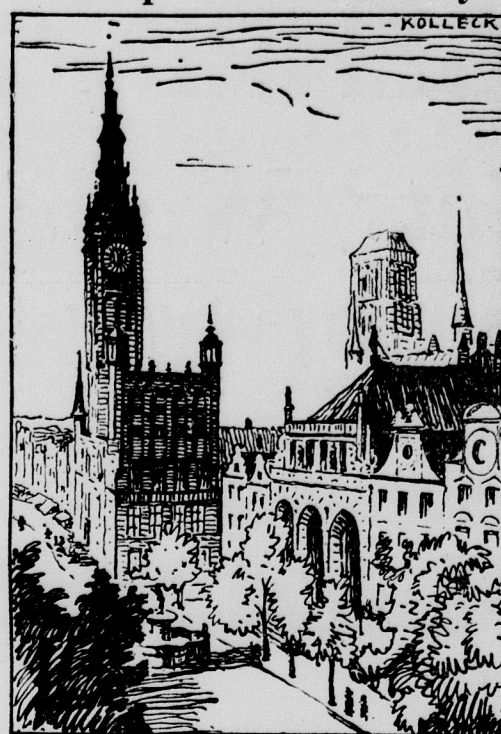

To Give Talks On Psychology

Social psychology will be the general topic for a series of four lectures to be given by Dr. Frank C. Davis of the department of psychology at the University of California at Los Angeles. His first lecture will be Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Willard auditorium.

The particular subjects to be discussed at the following lectures will depend upon the interests of those attending. Dr. Davis will use a non-technical approach and will present material of interest to the lay people as well as to the professional social worker. These lectures are a part of the evening school program and are open to the public. No admission is charged.

Road traffic in Britain kills 10,000 animals daily.

Europe's Problem City

A portion of the city of Danzig, "the problem child of Europe," is shown above. Dr. John Brown Mason of the Santa Ana Junior college will talk about the famous city in a lecture at the Willard school auditorium tonight. Danzig, 95 per cent German, was made a free city by the League of Nations after the World war and its administration on this basis has been a problem for years. At the left in the picture is the city hall. On the right is the grain exchange. St. Mary's church, the second largest in Europe, is seen at the rear.

Speaker Says Danzig Is Danger Spot In Europe

"The Free City of Danzig is one of the international danger spots," said Dr. John Brown Mason at the Willard auditorium last night. Dr. Mason gave the fifth in his series of discussions under the Adult Education department.

Dr. Mason went on to show that the German people have a great deal of sentiment about the city of Danzig. They feel that it was unjustly taken away from them. The Polish corridor furnishes another source of irritation. This narrow strip of territory separates East Prussia from Germany proper. When a German citizen, or even an official of the government, wishes to go from one part of the country to another he must get a Polish visa on his passport or else ride the entire distance in a locked train. Polish authorities have made little effort to conciliate the Germans or to make conditions more tolerable.

Next Monday will be the last opportunity to hear Dr. Mason in this current series. His subject will be "United States Foreign Policy." On Nov. 15 and 22 Dr. Robert G. Cleland of Occidental college will discuss certain phases of the Mexican situation.

Anne Bradstreet, wife of Governor Bradstreet, was a noted American poet.

CITY ADOPTS NEW LAW ON HANDBILLS

Split wide open on the question the city council last night gave second and final reading to a new ordinance which will prohibit free distribution of newspapers and other types of printed matter to local homes.

The vote was three to two. Councilman William Penn led the battle to oppose the new ordinance. He was supported by Councilman Plummer L. Bruns. Mayor Fred C. Rowland, who cast the deciding vote, sided with Councilmen Ernest H. Layton and Joseph P. Smith in passing the ordinance over the heads of their fellow councilmen.

The new ordinance is scheduled to go into effect in 30 days from last night. This particular ordinance replaces one previously considered, which would have regulated free distribution of printed matter under police supervision, with fees going to the city from distributors.

The ordinance moved adoption of the ordinance, saving the greatest requests were for its adoption. The Home Owned Business association had led the fight for adoption of this ordinance, which was opposed by a large group of other leading merchants of the city.

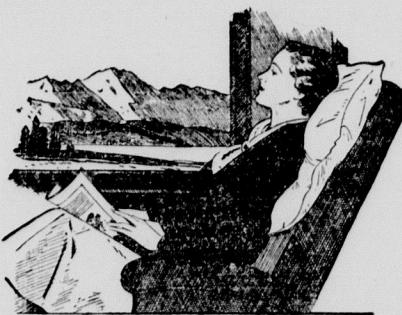

Penn pointed out in careful terms that the newspaper in which the city council does its legal advertising is distributed free, and will be affected by the ordinance. He advocated control of distributions of circulars to prevent cluttering up lawns and porches, but contended that the ordinance should not apply to legal newspapers. He proposed rescinding of the ordinance under consideration, and drafting of a new one.

While our Santa Ana Dons ramble on toward another football title, it is interesting to note that two of their past three championship drives were climaxed by Frank Merriwell finishes.

Back in 1929, a short pass over the goal from Wayne Garlock to Jack Sweetnam, after the final gun had sounded, earned a 19-13 victory over Fullerton, which led at half-time by a comfortable score of 13-0. The pass from center was on its way to Garlock's arms when the timekeeper's gun went off.

Back in 1933, a pass in the last three minutes of play from Harold Welty to Walt Gunther, ex-Orange High school star, offset a field goal and gave Santa Ana a 6-3 victory over Fullerton for the title.

The Dons had easier sailing last year, winning the Southern California crown without much difficulty. But their present aggregation may be involved in another one of those hair-raising games before—and if—they win their fourth title.

Reece (Pinky) Greene is doing right well with the "Little Saints" at Santa Ana High school. His Class B team won the Coast Preparatory league track championship last spring. Now his sophomores need only to polish off San Bernardino to win the Citrus Belt league football crown.

Al Titensor, co-captain of the '36 Dons at end, is playing guard at the University of Arizona. Miles Norton, the Santa Ana guard and tackle at U. S. C., is majoring in geology. Bob Faul, tackle, and Danny Boyd, center and guard, are two of the most improved players on Bill Cook's S. A. J. C. grid roster. Ted DeVellis, the Dons' brilliant end from Anaheim, also is a high-scoring basketball player. Bias Mercurio, quarterback, can high jump 6 ft. 2 in.

The lateral is expiring on the nation's gridiron because most coaches will not take the time to study the art of the "backward pass," in the opinion of Ernest Butterworth, the Canadian whose expert knowledge of rugby has greatly aided the Dons in football.

Riverside's Bengals, who encounter Santa Ana in a conference game here Friday night, have heard so much about the Dons' lateral and forward passes that they must think Santa Ana never resorts to power plays. Nevertheless, the Dons could discard all their wide-open stuff and still pile up the yardage off-tackle and around end. If Riverside can check the laterals, it will find out just how well Santa Ana can penetrate the line. If Riverside can't stop the laterals, Santa Ana may not take the trouble to go through the line.

Puerto Rican and Schaefer Fight In Olympic Ring

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Attilio Sabatino, Puerto Rico middleweight, squares off with Paul Schaefer of Winnipeg, Canada, in the 10-round feature bout at Olympic auditorium tonight.

In another 10-rounder, Ah Chu Mah, Chinese-Spanish bantamweight, opposes Umio Gen, Japanese.

Greenleaf Defends Billiard Crown

PHILADELPHIA. (AP)—Defending Champion Ralph Greenleaf, New York City, only undefeated player in the world's championship pocket billiard tournament, will place his record in jeopardy tonight in a match with Charles Seaback, Boston, Mass., veteran.

Greenleaf moved into undisputed possession of first place yesterday when Marcel Camp of Detroit, lost his first match in four starts to Benny Allen of Kansas City, 125 to 89.

Idle yesterday Greenleaf has three wins and no losses, Camp and Erwin Rudolph, Cleveland, each has three and one.

Saints' Warhurst to Remain at Left End

HAND INJURY MAY BENCH DICK HORTON

Harry Ashen Moves To Center; Collins Nurses Stiff Leg

Don Warhurst, rangy center, definitely will be shifted to left end, and either Ray Mercado or Tackle Bob Webb may replace Dick Horton at guard in Santa Ana High school's starting lineup for the Saints' make-or-break football game at Pomona Friday afternoon.

An examination was being made today to determine the extent of injuries to Horton's right hand, hurt in a scrimmage at Poly field yesterday.

Another on the ailing list is Halfback Bill Collins, who received a stiff leg early in the Riverside contest last week, and may see limited service at left half. Collins, who has been a real threat with his passing and punting, would be missed greatly by Coaches Bill Foote and Joe Kogler, who would be forced to shift Quarterback Barney Robinson to the halfback post.

Ralph Pagenkopp and George Higashi will be available at safety, with Bill Musick at fullback. With Harry Ashen capable of playing center as well as end, Foote shifted him to the pivot post when he sent the sturdy Warhurst to end with Milton Smith. Warhurst replaces the giant Jack McClure on the first-string.

O'DOUL SIGNS LONG-TERM CONTRACT

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Frank (Lefty) O'Doul will manage the Pacific Coast league San Francisco baseball club next season—and virtually for every season as long as he wants.

He signed an unprecedented contract yesterday, Team President Charley Graham announced, which calls for a considerable salary boost and what amounts to a life contract.

Graham said the contract was made out to insure O'Doul the position "from now on" because "he wanted to be sure of the future, and so did we."

The Seals finished the 1937 pennant race in second place. "We were satisfied and O'Doul was satisfied," Graham said.

TROJAN CAGERS PLAY L. S. U.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—University of Southern California basketball team will open a two-game series with Louisiana State university Dec. 16 and 17.

The games will open the L. S. U. varsity basketball season, Athletic Director T. P. Heard announced.

Today a year ago—Northwestern ranked first in third week of AP National football rankings followed by Minnesota, Fordham, Marquette and Pittsburgh.

Three years ago—John Arnold Heyler, 65, for 17 years president of the National league, resigned suddenly, giving ill health as cause of action.

Five years ago—Twenty football teams remained unbeaten and untied, including Colgate, Columbia, Brown, Auburn, Tennessee, Michigan and Southern California.

Dutch gets a Turkish bath towel when the gridiron going is sloppy. Texas Christian's Coach Dutch Meyer is shown here watching his Horned Frogs perform in the rain. With mouth agape he gazes wonderingly through the downpour to see if that play on the wet turf worked. P. S. It did.

ALMA MATER GIVES ALL FOR HER BOYS --WHEN THEY FALL IN HER DEFENSE

COLLEGE STATION, Texas. (AP)—Nothing is too good for the modern college player out "doing and dying" for old Alma Mater. He gets the best hospital beds, the best leg splints, the best-looking nurses.

At Texas A. & M., home of one of the southwest's strongest teams, the annual budget carries a $1000 allotment for hospitalization and treatment of injured grid heroes—exclusive of the trainer's salary or expenses of the team physician. Also allotted is about $400 for training room items, chief of which is adhesive tape.

Last year Dick Todd, the Aggies' potential all-America halfback, received a whack on the head in the Southern Methodist game. He spent days in the hospital. The $250 bill was passed as a routine matter through athletic office records.

A knee operation, which may bob up every few years or so, may cost as much as $500. It is figured as an obligation of the college to the player.

It isn't the major injuries that plague a football team, however. The Aggies have had only one broken bone in three years. It's the injuries that keep a player out of a game or so and break up the team spirit that keep Trainer Lil Dimmitt and Dr. R. Henry Harrison, team physician, constantly alert.

The Aggies left the field after their 1937 game with Mississippi State with a 14-0 victory and with nine first-stringers on the casualty list. All nine were ready for Texas Christian the following week-end. But it took daily trips to doctors, osteopaths and anyone else Trainer Dimmitt could find.

Knees and ankles are most frequently hurt, with many shoulder ailments, also. Colds, boils, bruised muscles, pinched nerves and cuts of all types stand high on the routine list. Athlete's foot is frequent and no misnomer in a grid camp.

Dimmitt's big job is not to treat injuries but to prevent them. Aggie football players weigh before and after every practice. The weight chart is an excellent health barometer.

Aside from his regular playing equipment, which includes protective devices galore, each Aggie goes to his daily workout with his ankles securely wrapped either with cloth binding or adhesive tape. He usually wears about nine yards of 2-inch tape on his ankles on game day.

On the field Dimmitt keeps his "hit and run" bag ready for service. His kit and Dr. Harrison's black bag have just about everything needed for a major operation but an operating table. There is even a portable X-ray machine on the sidelines.

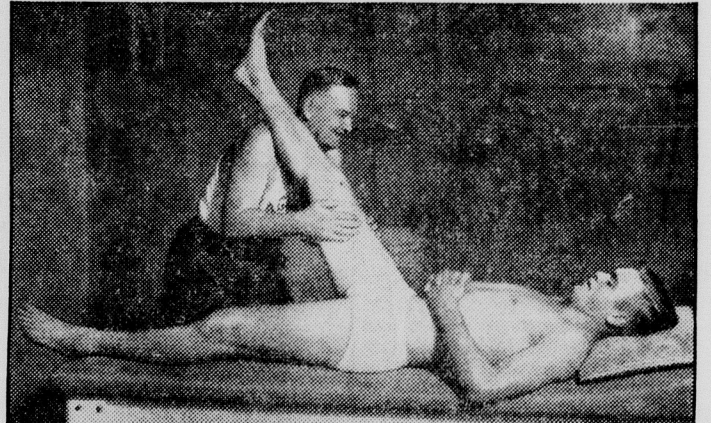

After considerable research, the German standards committee has decided that paint of a blue gray color is most satisfactory for stationary machine in factories.

WHEN A PLAYER DOESN'T GET UP—The trainer checks his eyes, pulse, and gives him a 5-minute examination for broken bones. Dilated eyes may mean a head injury. Weak pulse means a call for the doctor. Here Texas A. & M.'s Dick Todd is attended by Dr. R. Henry Harrison, Trainer Lil Dimmitt.

ONCE THE DOCTOR IS CALLED—You may scratch the name of the injured gridder off the program. The trainer handles minor injuries. Sometimes the player is winded, needs no more than a moment of rest. If the trainer has him walk around, it is no more than a minor leg injury.

IN THE TRAINING ROOM—Where Todd is getting a leg massage from Trainer Dimmitt are heat-ray machines and diathermy equipment, the latter to create heat within body tissues and relieve pressures. Here each athlete gets his ankles bound with tape before each game.

STANLEY, BEALL REJOIN DON ELEVEN, BUT TIMKEN AILING

Just when the Dons were figuring on meeting Riverside Bengals at full strength Friday night in the Municipal Bowl in what will have an important bearing on the Eastern J. C. conference pennant race to both teams, another injury took one of Coach Bill Cook's leading Santa Ana Jaycee backfield performers.

Occupying the job of No. 1 cripple is Larry Timken, one of the brightest prospects for a regular backfield post next fall who has a torn ligament in his foot. The former Orange ace who sparked against Pomona last week in the Dons' 14-0 victory will probably not see any action this week.

Timken has been Blas Mercurio's running mate in at full-back and his loss Cook may have to juggle his backs to find a new combination. The two likely ones would be Oliver McCarter and Les McLennan in first and Mercurio and Mac Beall later.

Outside of Timken, the Dons will be at their full strength

PARELLI AND COLEMAN IN TITLE WINS

Stecher Drops Two Of Three Falls; Barry Is Defeated

Neither Bob Coleman nor Joe Parelli was dethroned in championship wrestling matches at the Orange County Athletic club last night.

Young Joe Stecher, son of Referee Joe Vargas, invaded the middleweight ranks in an assault on Coleman's record, and took the first fall in 18 min. 42 secs. with his pet hold—the airplane spin. But the clever Coleman put his body slams into play, and captured the next two falls in 9 min. 22 secs. and 11 min. 28 secs.

Parelli knocked the referee down twice in his first fall, but avoided disqualification. He pinned the shoulders of the Boston strong boy, Lee Barry, in 21 min. 2 secs. of the first fall and 5 min. 56 secs. of the second. Barry never had a chance against the Italian rougher who claims the world's lightweight title.

Wildest bout of the evening was staged by Mitsuo Hamanaki and "Iron Mike" Works, with Hamanaki winning in 21 min. 57 secs. with a Japanese hip lock. The Japanese hooked Works in the ropes and slugged him. Works untangled himself and pitched Hamanaki out of the ring. Works later precipitated a near-riot by kicking a spectator.

Frank Hale opened the four-bout show by pinning Bobby Stone of San Francisco in 14 min. 29 secs.

HEELFLY DUE AT ARCADIA

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Heefly, winner of five important eastern stakes, is expected to arrive at Santa Anita park Thursday with nearly 40 other runners of the T. P. Morgan stable.

The large shipment left Maryland yesterday, turf sources here were informed.

Trainer L. T. Whitehill was believed planning to have entries in shape for Santa Anita's Christmas and New Year's Day handicaps.

WAR ADMIRAL IN PIMILICO

BALTIMORE. (AP)—War Admiral, 3-year-old champion and year's leading money winner, was entered today in the $7500 Pimlico special handicap tomorrow against a field of nine.

Included was Burning Star, which ran third in the Washington handicap which War Admiral won Saturday at Laurel.

The Pimlico was arranged last week as part of the track's "stake a day" program.

Today's feature was the thirty-second running of the historic Walden handicap.

Bear-Trojan Grid Pictures Seen By J. C. Lettermen

Fifty-yard line seats to the California-U.S.C. football classic which the Bears won, 20-7, were given members of the Varsity "S" club at Santa Ana Jaycee last night, with approximately 40 lettermen and fan men present.

Coach Bill Cook pointed out the hard blocking which the Bears used in pushing aside the Trojan forwards.

Following the pictures, President Russell (Rusty) Roquet presented the plan to raffle off the football used in the Don-Pomona contest and to get belt buckles with the Varsity "S" insignia for the members.

Most Valuable

Charley Gehringer, Detroit second-baseman, who today was named the American league's most valuable player by the Baseball Writers' association.

D'MAGGIO IS SECOND TO DETROIT ACE

Greenberg, Gehrig Also Place High In A. L. Balloting

NEW YORK. (AP)—Charley Gehringer was named by the Baseball Writers' association today as the American league's "most valuable player" for 1937, thereby clinching the biggest season of his 14-year career with the game's most cherished award.

At an age when many players are on the way down—and out—the Detroit Tigers' "strong, silent man" thus found his 34th year, already marked by the league batting championship, topped off by two much sought after goals.

Although his margin of victory in the Writers' poll was only four points over Joe DiMaggio, deadpan dynamite of the World Champion New York Yankees, Gehringer, nevertheless came within two points of a "perfect" score in the balloting.

Eight members of the association voted on the award, each casting one vote each for his first 10 nominations for the honor. Gehringer drew six first-place and two second-place nominations. This total, figured on a basis of 10 points for first, nine for second, eight for third, and so on, gave him an aggregate of 78 points out of a possible 80.

DiMaggio, with two nominations for first and six for second, compiled a total of 74. The balloting was strictly a two-player affair.

Third member of the Detroit clan to win the award since the Baseball Writers first presented it in 1931, Gehringer was selected for the brilliant all-around play that made him today the standout second baseman in the American league, if not in the game.

Only twice has he fallen below the 300 batting mark since becoming a regular in 1936. He hit for .356 in 1934, .354 in 1936, and last season clouted at a merry 369 pace, best in both major leagues. His life-time average is .329 over his 14 seasons.

Not another player in the league threatened Gehringer or DiMaggio for the most valuable award, which this year carries with it the Sporting News trophy. Trailing the two pace-setters were two former winners, Hank Greenberg, and Lou Gehrig of the Yanks. But Greenberg was 30 points back, with 48, and Gehrig was six behind Greenberg.

The committee balloting on the award was composed of Hy Hurwitz of the Boston Globe; John Carmichael, Chicago Daily News; Gordon Cobbickel, Cleveland Plain Dealer; H. G. Salsinger, Detroit News; Max Kase, New York Journal-American; James C. Isaminger, Philadelphia Inquirer; Glen Waller, St. Louis Globe-Democrat; Francis E. Stan, Washington Star.

The first 10 or those drawing 13 or more points:

Player and Club	Tot. Pts.
Charley Gehringer, Detroit	78
Joe DiMaggio, New York	74
Hank Greenberg, Detroit	48
Lou Gehrig, New York	42
Luke Sewell, Chicago	22
Bill Dickey, New York	22
Joe Cronin, Boston	19
Charles Ruffing, New York	18
Lefty Gomez, New York	14
Mike Kreevich, Chicago	13

BEARS GAIN IN GRID POLL

California Keeps Slate Clean in Trouncing U. C. L. A. Eleven

Tackled in an unorthodox fashion by Ken Washington (13) and Hal Hirschon (38) of University of California at Los Angeles, Wilbur Ingram, sub California back, still fought for more yardage in the Bear attack at Los Angeles. The Bears won 27 to 14 to continue their Pasadena-ward march.

EXPERTS GIVE CALIFORNIA GREAT EDGE

Nebraska and Santa Clara Move Into Nation's 'Big Ten'

NEW YORK. (AP)—The mighty may fall but California stays on top.

Scoring inclusion in the bumper crop of upsets and form reversals that has sent such potent powers as Minnesota tumbling out of football's "400," the Golden Bears hold, for the third successive week, first place in the Associated Press national poll of newspaper experts.

As Minnesota faded after four glorious seasons as one of the gridiron greats, and four new contenders moved up in the charmed circle, the balloting swung heavily to the Golden Bears.

Of the 62 writers polled, 49 chose Stubby Allison's young men as the nation's No. 1 eleven and the Bears topped the list with 600 points out of a possible 820. Alabama, Baylor, Fordham and Nebraska all moved ahead as a result of the latest poll.

The tabulation, scoring each team in a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis and with first place votes indicated in brackets:

First 10	Points
1. California (49)	600
2. Alabama (6)	503
3. Pittsburgh (4)	482
4. Baylor (2)	331
5. Fordham	281
6. Nebraska	191
7. Yale	181
8. Ohio State	178
9. Dartmouth	146
10. Santa Clara	113

(Note: One ballot bracketed California, Alabama and Pitt in triple tie for lead.)

Second ten: 11. Duke, 107; 12. Notre Dame, 75; 13. Villanova, 62; 14. Minnesota, 55; 15. Tennessee, 24; 16. Tie between Duquesne and Arkansas, 10 each; 18. Louisiana State, 8; 19. Tie between Tulane and Northwestern, 6. (Also ran: Colorado 5, Southern California 5, Texas Christian 2, Holy Cross and Vanderbilt 1 each.)

Minnesota's departure from the first ten may not be permanent, but it breaks the Gopher's down to conventional size after four years of happy hunting on the grounds that produced half a dozen All-Americans and a legend of invulnerability.

While California occupies the proud pinnacle, Alabama and Pittsburgh, two frequent visitors to the Rose Bowl, are putting up a grand battle for the second rung on the ladder just in case the Golden Bear slips.

Neither eleven has exactly a bed of roses ahead. Alabama must meet and beat Tulane, Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt, but the Panthers go them a little better with a November schedule that includes Notre Dame, coming up this Saturday, for one of the season's best games, Nebraska, Duke and Army.

Baylor is apparently this season's southwestern contribution to the honor list. The Bears found the going tough Saturday but managed to squeeze through.

As a result Baylor advanced two notches in the ranking list. Fordham's two-touchdown triumph over North Carolina pushed the unbeaten Rams from tenth place to fifth place. Nebraska went from eleventh to sixth, a new high, following a triumph over Iowa.

Nebraska and Santa Clara, a top-heavy victor over Marquette's riddled forces, replaced Vanderbilt and Minnesota in the "first ten." Georgia Tech tumbled Vandy out of the select group, while Notre Dame shaded the Gophers, who may lay for Santa Clara, a new arrival in the top ten.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Five sophomores will carry Southern California's football hopes when the battered Trojan varsity lines up against Stanford in the Coliseum Saturday.

Based on their showing in the scoreless tie with Washington State, Bill Sangster gets the starting assignment at fullback, Phil Gaspar gets the right tackle position, Howard Stoecker keeps left tackle, Bill Fisk stays in at left end and Wayne Hoffman, as usual, will hold down left halfback.

Don McNeil, having missed last Saturday's game because of the death of his father, is slated to shift from tackle to center.

Gene Gibbs, Alex Atanassoff and Ralph Stanley are temporarily on the sidelines because of injuries.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—U. C. L. A.'s Bruins, drawing a bye this week, resumed practice today for an invasion of the University of Washington Nov. 13.

A badly wrenched knee, suffered in the California game, will keep Lew Kyzivat, sophomore guard, from making the trip north. Center Sherman Phinney or Tackle Ernie Hill may substitute for him, it was indicated.

Francis Wai, from Hawaii to the University of Hawaii, apparently will get the call as defensive quarterback as a result of his showing against the Golden Bears. However, Kenny Washington, left halfback, will continue to call the signals.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Coach Tom Lieb disclosed today he will match speed with speed when his Loyola Lions play the Arizona Wildcats here Friday night.

PUNTS & PASSES

BERKELEY. (AP)—Wilbur Ingram and Ted Hubert were being groomed for Vic Bottari's left halfback job today in case the ace California ball carrier is not able to play against Washington Saturday because of a severe "charley horse."

Coach L. B. (Stub) Allison said he could not determine until tomorrow whether Bottari could play.

The Washington team is due tomorrow.

PALO ALTO. (AP)—Coach Claude (Tiny) Thornhill decided today Stanford must improve its blocking considerably and perfect its timing of plays if it expects to beat Southern California at Los Angeles Saturday. Right Guard Leo Ferko might be out of the Trojan game with a leg injury, Thornhill said.

SEATTLE. (AP)—With the exception of Walt Elliott, reserve center, out with a broken bone in his hand, Washington's Huskies were expected to near top shape for the California game Saturday. Thirty-three players enroute today for Berkeley.

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Prince Callison, University of Oregon football coach, will depend on the flying heels of Jay Graybeal and Jimmy Nicholson to pass the Washington State college defense when the two teams meet Saturday in Portland.

"If you can't go through 'em, you've got to go over or around them," Callison said after watching the Cougars defense at Pullman last week.

PATTERSON'S AND ADVENT FIVES SCORE

Breaking out into a scoring spree in the second half, the strong Advent Christian quintet sent Excelsior stock lower last night with a devastating 35-21 victory in the Y. M. C. A. basketball league. Patterson Dairy's five chalked up its first win of the season over the Southern Methodist team, 27-25.

A. Stone and Asa Herren rang up 11 points each, while C. Stone sent 10 through the hoop in pacing the Advent Christians. Half-time score was 11-9. Harold Eastham was high for the Creamery with five field goals.

In scoring an upset over the M. E. South quintet, the Dairymen had to come from behind in the second half, after trailing 15-11. Cook was the big gun of the Mustangs as he sank eight field goals and two foul throws, bringing his total to 18. Kaun and Buck shared high scoring with 8 points each.

Excelsior Creamery—J. Merritt, Advent Christians—Har. Spangler (1), J. Gooden (2), F. (11) Herrin, H. Eastham (10), C. How, Spangler, W. Limbaugh (6), C. (2) Cook, R. Gooden (1), G. (11) C. Stone.

CHICAGO HAS 'DREAM PREP'

Scores 25 Times In Five Tilts

CHICAGO. (AP)—The dream player of every football coach is galloping the gridirons of Chicago. He is "Wild Bill" De Correvont, a shy, 17-year-old youth, rated as the nation's most amazing prep star.

To date, in five games playing with Austin High school, De Correvont has scored 25 touchdowns, nine in one game, and six points in 156 points. This shatters the previous Chicago individual season scoring record of 109 points.

During his four years on Austin teams, he has set up an all-time scoring record that may never be equalled. He has scored one or more touchdowns in every league game he has played since his first game as a freshman. More than half the runs he has made have been for 50 yards or more.

This slim blond youth, weighing

172 pounds and five feet eleven inches tall, has played under three coaches. Each declares without reserve that he is the greatest prep star they've ever seen.

The sight of enemy goal posts affects him like a four-eleven alarm an old fire horse. He gets to the scene as quickly as possible. He is complete master of all the tricks of a veteran ball carrier, is a pass master in feinting and dodging, kicks remarkably and is a deadly and accurate passer. As good as he is, De Correvont is the first out for practice and the last to quit, always working for perfection.

De Correvont is not only a great football star, but a baseball "nut" as well. He plays the outfield and last spring turned in the lowest batting average of his career, a mere .360; his highest was .490. He has turned down an offer from the Brooklyn Dodgers, which is reported to have included a college education.

Sales "talks" from various colleges, by phone and the mails, are pouring into De Correvont's home. Many are accompanied by attractive offers of work and financial aid.

De Correvont takes to athletics naturally. He started to play football as soon as he was able to run. His grandfather was a member of the Cincinnati Reds years ago. His father, who died two years ago while on the way to attend a football game, was a football player and also good at baseball.

In the pleasant surroundings of the Austin district, you hear this chant: "You ain't seen nothin' until you've seen Bill De Correvont carry the mail."

DROP-KICKING IS LOST ART IN FOOTBALL

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Drop kicking has become a lost art in football. This department never gave it much thought (have you?) until a chance question asked Amos Alonzo Stagg.

The reason, said the 75-year-old dean of coaches, is not so much because the goal posts were set back but rather because a place kick can be executed quicker than a drop kick.

Stagg became a proponent of place kicking years ago after exhaustive tests. "I checked the two methods of kicking many times with a stop watch," he said. "The experiments proved we could get off a place kick from three-tenths to four-tenths of a second faster than a drop kick. It doesn't seem logical and most people will argue over it but a stop watch will produce results. And split seconds count."

Johnny Adams, setting the pace for 1937, riding honors, is one jockey who isn't letting success make too big a dent in his pocketbook. The former Iola, Kan., farm boy, now riding at Bay Meadows track, lives in a Redwood City auto camp while some of his fellow reinsmen go in for fancy apartments.

"I'm saving my money," said Adams. "Have you ever worked on a farm?"

The fight tackle of St. Mary's Gaels answers to the imposing name of Nicholas Siegfried Katzmeyer. His brother Johnny is quarterback on the St. Mary's freshman football team and two more brothers, twin halfbacks, will enroll next year.

During this time they will be received by President Roosevelt. The British ambassador and Lady Lindsay will be the first representatives of Britain's royal family to entertain Edward, England's abdicated monarch.

Riverside Line Goes to Extremes

WESTERN HOG PRICES SHOW DROP

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—J. A. McNaughton, general manager of the Los Angeles union stock yards, said today that while hog prices had been expected to decrease, the "recent decline had been beyond expectations of the livestock industry."

"From a top in August of $14.15 per hundredweight, the market has declined on hogs to a recent top of $10.00. This is not statistically warranted," McNaughton said.

"Here on the West coast the demand for stock cattle, that is, cattle which is bought for replacement, is strong, a factor which adds much to the firmness of the present cattle market."

"In my judgment there is no need for apprehension as to any material reduction in live values for next several months on the West coast, in view of the fact that our prices have been relatively low in relation to those of the Middle West, especially as regards swine."

STABBING ENDS HOLIDAY FETE

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—A Halloween celebration ended today in the fatal stabbing of two women, serious wounding of a third and the slaying of a young man.

Police Chief W. R. Kennedy said the dead were 19-year-old Dorothy Bash and Mrs. Florence Tait. The wounded, he said, were Mrs. Tait's son, Floyd, 20, and Mrs. Hilda Seymour.

Police found the dead and wounded in Mrs. Seymour's apartment after she called for an officer.

Police Lieutenant C. J. Beilstein said the group had returned from a party and changed from Halloween costumes before a quarrel started.

Kennedy said Mrs. Seymour claimed Tait stabbed his mother, Miss Bash and himself. Mrs. Seymour's condition was described at a hospital as serious but doctors said Tait had a good chance to recover.

NEWS OF ORANGE COUNTY COMMUNITIES

EXPECT 600 AT TUSTIN DINNER

TUSTIN.—Preparations have been completed for the fifth annual turkey dinner sponsored by the Advent Christian church of Tustin, committee members in charge of the affair announced today.

An even larger crowd than attended last year's dinner is anticipated, it was announced. The record attendance for the event was set in 1936, when more than 600 persons attended.

The dinner will be held in the high school auditorium, with serving to be from 5 until 8 p. m., it was announced.

GROVE POSTAL RECEIPTS UP

GARDEN GROVE.—Postal receipts for the month of October, which each year are the largest, with the exception of December, showed a gain of $15.24 for 1937 over those of the preceding year according to figures released today by Postmaster Clair Head. Receipts of the past month were $1121.10 as compared with $1105.86 in 1936.

For the first 10 months of this year the receipts are $542.41 cents greater than in 1936 the report revealed, this year's receipts totaling $9252.51 as against $8710.10 in 1936. Postal savings during October also showed a gain over the preceding month of $855.

Increases in the rate of post office boxes starting Oct. 1. Head said, was the result of the post office receipts surpassing the $10,000 mark during the past year, when the rent prices are automatically raised. No further increase will be made until receipts exceed the $40,000 mark. Increases he said were from 45 to 60 cents, 60 to 75 and 75 to $1.00.

Science Replaces The Six-Gun In Fight With Cattle Rustlers

By ROBERT GEIGER

DENVER.—Six-gun methods having failed, western cattlemen are turning to science to aid them in their fight against the rubber-tired cattle rustler.

Electric eyes, charged fences, airplanes and the radio are being discussed as weapons against outlaws who cost the high-heeled, big-hatted cattlemen thousands of dollars each year.

"Rustling today is a greater menace in the West than it ever was," says Dr. B. F. Davis, secretary of the Colorado Stock Growers and Feeders association. The cause: high cattle prices.

"We aren't dealing now with men who were hearty with a lariat and a hot branding iron," Davis explains. "We have to contend with toughs from the city, organized into gangs and equipped with high speed automobiles, rifles, skinning knives and plenty of nerve."

SELL TO BUTCHERS

"With ranges fenced and paved highways running through the cattle country," Davis explains, "it is a simple job for a couple of men in a fast car to drive to a pasture, throw a spotlight into the face of a steer, blinding him, and then shoot him down."

"They skin these animals and drive 200 or 300 miles to a crooked butcher who 'fences' the meat, selling it over his counter," Davis says.

Cattle associations are offering rewards, western states are tightening cattle inspection laws and peace officers are forming interstate pacts to put a stop to the rubber-tired thieves.

RADIOS NOW USED

But this hasn't been entirely effective. So Davis hopes now to find an "electric eye" and charged fences which might do the trick.

Davis says he has in mind an instrument of the present "electric eye" type, which sends a beam from a sender to a receiver, which would send an alarm when the beam was broken. Anyone passing through an entrance to a range would break the beam.

A charged fence is even more practical, Davis believes. If the wire were cut, the circuit would be broken and an alarm would sound at the ranch house, which might be a mile or two away.

Radios now are being used by peace officers to warn authorities of adjoining counties when there has been a cattle raid.

Several ranchers in the West also have airplanes to patrol large segments of range country.

The rustling is not confined to cattle. Hogs, sheep, even turkeys, are being "taken for a ride."

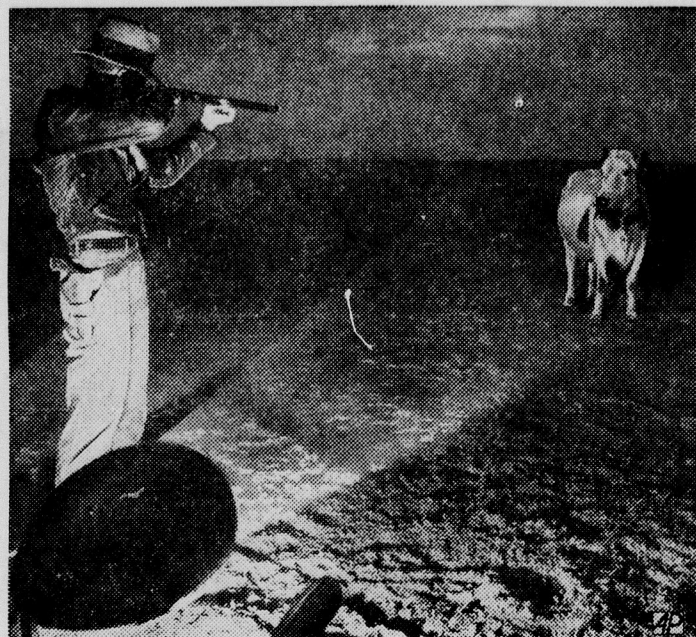

Shower Fetes Dorothy Barnes

GARDEN GROVE.—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schnitzer entertained with a miscellaneous bridal shower Friday evening for Miss Dorothy Barnes and Arvy Howell whose wedding took place Sunday afternoon. Gifts for the couple were found at the end of a treasure hunt. Other games were enjoyed followed by serving of a late supper by the hostess assisted by her sister Miss Margaret Watts.

Guests included the honored couple, Mr. and Mrs. Sharon Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Solter, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Stuck, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Clausen, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Applebury, Miss Pearl Morgan, Miss Marion Magnusson, Miss Margaret Watts, Ben Kolb, Garden Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hein and Miss Etta Mathis of Huntington Park.

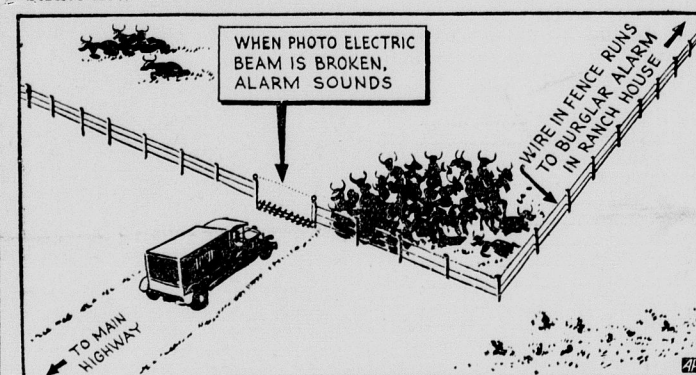

H. B. Fireman Breaks Wrist

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Alvin E. Rafferty, engineer for the local fire department, yesterday sustained a fractured left wrist when he slipped and fell near the city hall. He will be unable to work for some time, according to Fire Chief J. K. Sargent.

PRELUDE TO STOLEN BEEF

Using trucks at night, the modern rustler shoots the cow or steer in the bright glare of the headlights of his car, dresses his kill on the way to market. These men, not rustlers of course, demonstrate how that's done.

PROPOSED RUSTLER ALARM

Details of how the photo-electric eye rustler alarm might work are shown in this artist's sketch. The beam thrown across the road at or very near the fence would be broken when a car or person passed through, setting off the alarm in the ranch house.

Orange Has Least Crime In County, Judge Tells Group

ORANGE.—Designating the town of Orange as having the least delinquency in the county, and Orange county the least in the state, Judge William H. McKay, municipal judge of Los Angeles, spoke before about 225 persons who attended the annual open meeting of the Y. M. C. A. heard last night in the Woman's club.

The speaker was introduced by Superior Court Judge H. G. Ames, Santa Ana, who said the town of Orange was low in delinquency, as only eight youths were cited in the past year.

However, crime in general presents an entirely different picture, Judge McKay reported, the crime problem being the most important question before the people of the United States today. The cost is 14 billions of dollars in one year, he added. He compared the United States with that of other countries. In Mexico City there has been one bank robbery in 11 years; in Chicago alone 2200 in three months, he pointed out.

IT'S LIKE this

By DONALD BUTTON

Being ambitious, the past week-end has been a horticulturalist's holiday!

From the opening note of Albert Stockdale's Willard lecture Thursday evening to the closing of the Carmelita Gates Sunday night, it has truly been for those who like growing things.

Comment heard upon the Stockdale lecture has been interesting, and stimulating.

First of all, he's a showman (witness his stage presence and arranging flowers in process of lecture).

Second, he is extremely sincere, eliminating all reference to the use of rapid, and shallow "artistic" terminology.

He, like Clare Cronenwett, is that rather amazing combination of the practical and fantastic in a flower arranger. Common things, given a twist, take glamour.

Stockdale is most reticent about himself. He quickly turns talk from his personality to his work.

I did learn that he is one of those rare California natives. That he taught at Chouinard. That he designs a number of those very lovely papers Thibaut manufactures.

That his whole world seems to turn upon design.

I've already reserved Thursday, December 16th (the date of his next lecture at Willard). The more we hear from Albert Stockdale, I think, the more we're going to like him!

Whether it simply grows on you, or what, each Pasadena flower show hits a slightly higher note of achievement.

Spring saw her show brought out-of-doors into Carmelita Gardens and turned upon a Buddha within a chaise longue green bower.

Fall, in a blaze of chrysanthemums, directed her show from the bench Lloyd Cosper and the Noel T. Arnold's gardeners had placed for her.

Begonias grew within a fountain place not far from where candles flickered in honor of the Virgin.

And one took care (lest alligators, beware!) in passing the small animals watering-place.

Santa Ana was well-represented in the Sunday attendance, but I wonder how many of you realized the importance of the California Horticultural society's exhibit.

At the end of the arrangement tent, it was neither spectacular nor sensational.

But had you talked with Dr. Gordon Loucks, you'd probably have taken a greater interest.

The same group who made avocado raising here possible, now proposes (with county, state and federal aid) to show us just how many herbs, distills and perfume-producing plants can be grown in Southern California.

At the present time, Dr. Loucks points out, only wormwood (used principally in the French absinthes and brandies) from Michigan is exported. All other spices and perfumes, distills, we largely import, when we in California might well be raising a large portion of the world supply.

The happy combination of oil refineries and highly scented flowers may not be so far distant a reality!

Anyway, don't say I didn't warn you a perfumed existence was on the way!

He gave as the chief reasons for the situation as the definite tie between law enforcement agencies and politics, and said that until such a tie is dissolved not much can be done to do away with crime.

A demonstration of club work made by about 60 boys who represented Friendly Indians, Pioneers, Comrades, Hi-Y and Young Men's division, was highly praised by the judge, who said that the reason Orange has a low delinquency record is because the citizens of the town wish it, and do something about it.

Sheldon Swenson, executive secretary of the local "Y," gave the yearly report, saying that in cultural groups a total of 485 boys were served, an additional 200 as non-club boys and 75 members of athletic teams. In Orange there are 791 boys between 7 and 18 years, he added, with 581 members of some church school, and connected with the local "Y." More than 50 workers will take the field today for the annual financial drive for $5000. W. W. Perry, drive chairman, announced. He added that already $1000 has been pledged by 18 persons in the town.

Elton Barnes, president of the Ace Model Airplane club, gave a demonstration of flying a model plane, and Carol Merrick as archery enthusiast made 11 bull's eyes in quick succession. Miss Ruth Oakes, Santa Ana, played two harp solos. Ralph Hull presided.

Visitors introduced included Mayor A. C. Boice, Assemblyman Clyde Watson, Sheriff Logan Jackson, Mrs. Percy Green, president of the Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. C. A. Robinson, secretary of the Y. W. C. A.; Forrest Knapp, area secretary of National Council, Y. M. C. A.; Dr. John P. Buckley, president of the board of managers, Hollywood Y. M. C. A.; H. J. Payne, executive secretary, Hollywood Y. M. NEW HALL IS APPROVED AT BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Work will start in about 10 days on the new $6000 recreational center building in Lake Park, according to City Engineer Harry Overmyer, following award of a contract by the city council last night for erection of the structure.

A bid from Catching Brothers, Los Angeles, for $5148 for the work was accepted by the city body last night. The building, which will be erected in a "U" shape, will contain a large assembly hall, kitchen, storage rooms and a fireplace. The new building will be used as a recreational center for various groups of the community.

Council members also approved a plan offered by Police Chief H. L. Grant for purchase of pedestrian signs similar to those used near Santa Ana schools. Total cost will be about $35, he reported.

W. H. Gallienne, executive secretary of the Huntington Beach chapter of commerce, submitted plans for a folder to be used for advertising the community. Total cost for 10,000 will be about $265, Gallienne said.

DRIVER GETS 60 DAYS IN COURT CASE

ORANGE.—Paul Claude, 46, of 1866 West Eleventh street, Los Angeles, was given a 60 days' jail sentence and had his driver's license suspended Monday by Justice of the Peace Cal D. Lester, when he made a belated appearance in court, for running through a crowd of school children at the Atwood school Sept. 30.

Highway Patrol Officer W. W. Myer gave Claude a citation on that date, after he had disobeyed a command of the officer to stop, he reported, and had run through a 15-mile zone at 35 miles per hour, when a crowd of 15 or 20 school children were trying to cross the street. The officer stated the prisoner had been drinking. He was pulling a house trailer with his car.

Judge Lester scored the prisoner for driving in such a reckless manner. He added that Claude was supposed to appear Oct. 14, but instead sent a money order for $10, saying he supposed that would "fix" it. Judge Lester sent the money order back, and ordered Claude to appear. He started the jail sentence Monday, and his driver's license was sent to the state highway department for final disposal.

BOULEVARD
PLANNING IS DEFERRED

Outright denial of permission to establish business establishments on Santa Ana boulevard was recommended to the city council last night by the planning commission.

Members of the council, who previously have expressed opposition to plans for letting business in on the important boulevard, voted to defer definite action on the matter, despite the recommendation of the planners.

Proposals to allow a produce stand and an auto court on the highway have been considered by the council over a period of weeks. Action of the council last night in referring the matter back to the commission will mean that no further action will be taken until plans are under way for employing an expert planning consultant and rezoning of the city.

Recommendations of the planning commission embraced the contents that Santa Ana boulevard is a beautiful highway, on which the forestry board has planted trees, and that business would be harmful to this program; that there is too much business frontage in the city already, and that business on the highway would bring about additional traffic hazards.

Requests had been made for rezoning the boulevard from single family residences to business, the territory involved running from Main street to Chapman avenue.

I JUST FOUND
OUT—How S. A. Looked
50 Years Ago

By MILLARD BROWNE

Elmer Burns, Santa Ana income tax counselor, was in a reminiscent mood today. He's celebrating the 50th anniversary of the day he first came to Santa Ana, and he's one of the comparatively few present residents who "knew the community when."

For the past few days, Burns has been working his agile memory overtime, and he's come up with some startling recollections of the Santa Ana that existed back in 1887.

He remembers, for instance, that the office he now uses—Seventh and Main—would have been on the very outskirts of town when he first arrived here, a 19-year-old kid who's just come to a new country from Springfield, Ohio.

In those days, he points out, Santa Ana didn't extend much south of First street, nor much north of Seventh. The area now centered by Washington and Main streets had been subdivided into small farms, and C. F. Mansur had his ranch home on what now is the Washington-Main intersection.

Burns' two chief impressions when he arrived in Santa Ana: ankle-deep dust on Fourth street, only business street in town; windmills and water tanks all over the city.

In those days, nearly all water for private uses came from artesian wells. The water lever was only a foot or two under the surface most places. The original city water works was back of the present Spurgeon building; where an artesian well brought water a foot above the ground level.

Biggest development spurt was back in the 1890's when a Pacific Electric line was brought in from Los Angeles. It came down Fourth street, caused opening of what then was the Palmer tract. Fourth street, consequently developed both east and west long before Main street did.

It wasn't 'til after the turn of the century, though, that the large farms south of Main street were opened as residence tracts. G. W. Miller and the Edingers, who farmed nearly all of the area from the present high school grounds to the south end of town, finally subdivided a large chunk of their land.

Except for a depression setback, the biggest, steadiest development came in more recent days, Burns said. Nearly all modernization, in fact, has been since the 1933 earthquake.

For old times sake, the West Coast theater on Main street might do well to show more cowboy pictures. Because Burns points out that spot was occupied by a livery stable back in '87. A brewery was located back of the present Rankin's store.

Though a struggling community of around 3700 population—it had not been incorporated yet—Santa Ana had a full-grown Chinatown. It was located in the block now bounded by Main, Bush, Second and Third streets. All vegetables were supplied from Chinese vegetable wagons, and there were nearly as many Chinese as Mexicans in the community then.

Only amusement center was Spurgeon hall, located on the upper floor of the old two-story Spurgeon building. Spurgeon park was used for occasional picnics. It was situated on the present courthouse grounds.

Young Santa Anans all were educated in Central school on Sycamore street, where the Y. M. C. A. building now rests.

Before some courthouse offices were moved to the annex, it was St. Annes Inn. Many Santa Ana residents remember that. Not so many, however, can remember when that block was occupied by Dr. J. A. Bailey's showplace residence. Only present reminders are several old trees and shrubs that Dr. Bailey planted half a century ago.

One of the swankier residence districts 50 years ago was the present industrial district of East First street. The Daniel Hallidays had one of these nice homes where the Santa Ana Iron Works now is situated.

Several of the homes that were here when Burns first arrived are still standing. The W. W. Halesworth house on Broadway (then West street) north of Washington avenue was there then; so was the Charles R. Smith home near Washington and Main. The John McFadden is still living in the structure, since modernized, that they occupied in 1887.

When old-time Santa Anans left town, it was an event. Los Angeles was an all-day trip, and the road to Anaheim meant at least an hour-and-a-half drive through cactus, willows and in and out among chuckholes. There was a tiny streetcar line to the thriving Tustin community, car barns for which were built way out on West Fourth, just past Olive street.

Toughest part of Burns' reminiscence job was to remember just which of the present business buildings were here in the old days. "They've nearly all been changed, and none of them has more than the bare framework of 50 years ago," he explained. Most of the business buildings on the south side of Fourth street are remodeled editions of the same structures, but nearly all stores across the street have been rebuilt.

FORUM TO HEAR
DR. GARCIA

Fabian Garcia, doctor of laws and philosophy from the University of Havana and formerly commercial attaché at the Cuban embassy in Washington, will be the speaker at the Citizen's Forum meeting at the Unitarian church at 7:45 tonight.

Dr. Garcia has tasted at first hand the terrors of war and revolution, having been a political prisoner in Cuba under the Machado regime, and being a political exile from the present dictatorship under Batista. Under the San Mar cabinet and as commercial attaché in Washington, and he has represented the party of Ramon Gran San Martin on the west coast since 1935.

Dr. Garcia believes the present invasion of China by Japan is a close consequence of the fascist dictatorship at present in power in Cuba, and that both governments are but two arms of a single financial control. His interesting analysis of the situation will form the theme of his address tonight, under the title: Cuba and Japan—Two Parts of One Picture.

MUSIC PROJECT

Support of the city council in promoting the Federal Music project program was solicited in a letter received yesterday afternoon by the council.

The committee has pointed out that the project has a monthly payroll of $6000, which is valuable to business men throughout the county. The project orchestra will play its first concert in the high school auditorium Thursday night.

LAWYER QUILTS
COURT CASE

J. D. Rumbaugh of Garden Grove today had two days in which to find another attorney to prosecute his $28,500 malpractice suit against Dr. Arthur Robbins, Garden Grove physician.

Presiding Superior Judge H. G. Ames granted Rumbaugh a continuance for that period today, after Arthur E. Koepsel, Santa Ana attorney, had filed notice of withdrawal from the case.

In the suit, pending for more than a year, Rumbaugh and his wife, Mrs. Edna M. Rumbaugh, charge Dr. Robbins with being negligent in setting a broken arm for Mrs. Rumbaugh, who alleges she was permanently deformed by the adjustment, performed Aug. 22, 1935.

Stanley Reinhaus, attorney for Dr. Robbins, objected to further delay in the long-pending case, but Judge Ames gave Rumbaugh two days to hire another lawyer.

Dictator's Flying Foster Daughter
Carries Her Powder Puff to War

Sabiha Guekchen, the "Flying Amazon of Turkey," shown in her plane (at top) and kissing the hand of her foster father, Kemal Ataturk (above), was trained for her daring career in the regular Turkish army air force school.

YESTILKEUY AIRDROME, Istanbul, Turkey. (AP)—A single-seater military plane stops its flashing acrobatics in the air and dives, almost straight down, to a perfectly controlled landing while spectators gasp and cheer.

From the cockpit steps a 23-year-old girl. Goggles and helmet come off to reveal intense black eyes, a gay face, and a flood of dark brown hair.

The impression is one of complete femininity, of mirror and powder puff, and one finds it hard to believe that this same girl not long ago took part in actual warfare; that she took an airplane into the Dersim area in Eastern Anatolia and bombed the Kurd brigands out of their mountain dens.

CITED FOR GALLANTRY

"There you are," says a spectator. "That is Sabiha Guekchen. If you please, the Flying Amazon of Turkey. You will agree that she is an amazingly good pilot?"

This pride in Sabiha Guekchen is to be found everywhere in Turkey. President Kemal Ataturk is especially proud, for Sabiha is his adopted daughter. The army is proud for Sabiha now holds the rank of flight lieutenant—the only woman in the world to have such title in the regular army air force of a nation. And on Sabiha's gray tunic sparkles the diamond air force medal, awarded for "conspicuous gallantry."

She is shy. There is nothing of the swagger or heartiness one might expect from a girl who, in a country which once concealed its women in high-walled harems, now is known as the "Flying Amazon."

The new code strengthens certain parts of the code, particularly with reference to earthquake-proof construction methods.

More and better lighting for South Main street was demanded by merchants and property owners along the street last night in a petition presented to the city council.

disappeared, but her tragic end will not discourage the passion of women for aviation. On the contrary it will be a stimulant, leading to greater victories for human beings over the elements of nature.

Of herself she is reluctant to speak.

"My pleasure in flying? I would stay up all day long if I could." "Danger? I do not know, really. I have never been afraid in the air."

She is sincere in this, and her flying instructors offer confirmation. In the air, they say, she never reveals the slightest emotion or weariness. Her powers of endurance are, in fact, regarded as almost superhuman.

EDUCATED IN SCIENCES

"In my opinion," says the French flying instructor at the Turkish air force school, "Sabiha Guekchen is the most gifted woman acrobatic pilot of the world."

Daughter of a captain in the Turkish army who, in 1921, lost his life fighting the Greeks in Asia Minor, Sabiha was adopted by Ataturk while still an infant. Her mother died shortly after her father was killed. She is well educated, and early revealed an inclination for physics and natural sciences. When she became interested in aviation she was sent to Russia for a course in flying and gliding. Her ambition then became that of a "flying soldier" and she was eventually admitted as a cadet in the army air force school of Eski Chehir where she underwent the regular course of training.

She now handles all types of planes; during the recent punitive expedition in the Dersim area she risked her life repeatedly in flying through storms and on raiding expeditions through the mountains. She bombed with the rest of the pilots.

AVERAGE IS
$77.05 PER
TAXPAYERSchools, Relief Boost
Total to $5,000,000

That tax bill, you 65,000 lucky people, is just about $13 higher than the little scrap of paper that cost you around $64 last year.

These joyous tidings went out in approximately 65,000 envelopes this week, as County Tax Collector J. C. Lamb sent the news to Orange county taxpayers.

Sanitary district taxes, which are assessed and billed separately, will be along later for the seven sanitary districts.

Average tax bill this year, on a basis of 70,151 bills—several bills come in one envelope, to make it more fun—will be $77.05. Last year's was roughly $64.

Dec. 5 is the deadline for last payments, Lamb warned, after which the tax becomes delinquent—with a resulting 8 per cent penalty. April 20 is the deadline on second installment payments.

This year's tax bills total $5,405,710.02. Last year's totaled $4,576,609.50.

Most of the increase is caused by rapidly-mounting school costs and ever-increasing relief loads. Most city and district government, as well as county affairs, is more costly this year; but county salary increases, not included in the budget, will not add to the tax load.

Guest Day Is Celebrated By P.E.O.

When the three chapters of P. E. O. met yesterday afternoon for their regular fortnightly sessions, two of the groups observed guest day with delightful afternoon teas, while the third enjoyed an informal program following a noon luncheon.

Mrs. Harry Hanson entertained members of the AB chapter in her Orange avenue home, with Mrs. William H. Spurgeon as assisting hostess. Following a salad luncheon, Miss Ruth Rowland, high school home economics teacher, told of her year's experiences in the Hawaiian islands as an exchange teacher.

About 27 members of the chapter were present to enjoy the afternoon in the Hanson home which was attractively decorated with Mexican sunflowers. Plans were made to meet next time with the president, Mrs. Clarence Nisson in Tustin.

Guest day and a lovely Hawaiian program were observed yesterday afternoon when members of the DI group met with Mrs. Clarence Gustlin in her home at 819 North Main street. Members of the yearbook committee, including Miss Lulu Minter, Mrs. F. E. Coulter, Mrs. Sam Nau, and Mrs. Maurice Enderle, assisted as hostesses.

Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips followed the meeting's motif by reading charming legends of the islands. At the tea hour, the guests gathered around the table cleverly decorated with a low bowl of scarlet hibiscus, pieces of coral, and other souvenirs from the South Seas. Mrs. John Tamm, Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank, Mrs. John L. Wehrly and Mrs. Franklin West assisted.

Meeting in the home of Mrs. H. A. Gardner, 2628 North Main street, the GJ section entertained a group of guests, with more than 25 present for the afternoon. Mrs. Margaret Miller and Mrs. Marie Carter were assisting hostesses for the session.

A short business meeting was followed by an interesting program, which featured vocal solos and a book review. Mrs. Marie Cleaman of Hastings, Neb., sang "Clouds," "Carmino," and "Men Are Devils," accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Miller. Mrs. Celia Bonney of Anaheim reviewed "This Life We Love" by Isabelle Field.

Completing the afternoon, the guests were escorted to the dining room where large yellow chrysanthemums centered a prettily appointed tea table. Mrs. Hazel Bond and Mrs. Zella Thomson presided at the tea urns.

FOUR LOCAL PEOPLE RETURN FROM TUCSON

Miss Helene Newbold, 517 South Garvey street, Mrs. Alice Titensor, son Richard and nephew Joe Allen, all of 213 Lacy street, returned Sunday night from Tucson, Ariz., where they spent the week-end visiting Mrs. Titensor's son Allen, a student at the University of Arizona.

Saturday was Mothers and Fathers day at the university, affording the occasion for the trip. The day was spent going through the university and meeting the faculty. In the evening, the group watched a football game won by the University of Arizona, followed by a dance.

Before returning home Sunday, the visitors were guests for dinner at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house, in which Allen is a pledge. He will be in Santa Ana next week-end following the Arizona-Loyola football game to be played in Los Angeles.

MANY ATTEND GAY MASQUERADE

One of the most successful parties of the organizations' history was enjoyed over the week-end by members of the Carpenters' local and auxiliary when the two groups held a masquerade Halloween party at the Labor Temple.

Autumn leaves, streamers, and gay jack o'lanterns decorated the hall where approximately 100 people enjoyed an evening of games and dancing. Mrs. Agnes Schrode was chairman of decorations, and Arlo Hayward presided as master of ceremonies.

A program of singing and dancing was presented by the Meglin Studios, and the entire group participated in a grand march. Mrs. Belle Bergesser, Norris Stone, and Emmett Lambert presided as judges, and awarded prizes to the two best-costumed people, Mrs. Fern Benner as a darkie minstrel, and John Buckwalter as a Spanish cavalier. The two most comic characters judged were Malvina Richenel and Jerome Schrode, as Tom Sawyer and a tramp. Children's prizes went to Eunice and Bruce Schrode.

An orchestra for dancing was composed of Bob Richardson, Dean Laub, and Etta Erick. Refreshments completed the gay evening.

Garden Grove Couple Wed At Beach

An air of simplicity was carried out Sunday afternoon when Miss Dorothy Emma Barnes, popular young Garden Grove pianist, became the bride of Avry Howell, also of Garden Grove, at rites performed in the Calvary Presbyterian church of Long Beach before a group of 100 friends and relatives.

The altar of the church, banked with baskets of mammoth yellow chrysanthemums mixed with white pompons, ferns, palms, and candelabra, provided a lovely background for the ceremony. The bride wore a dark blue transparent velvet afternoon dress with matching pumps. She carried a white Bible with a shower bouquet of white sweet peas and maidenhair fern.

The Rev. Paul P. Younger, pastor of the Whittier Friends church and formerly of the Alamitos Friends church, performed the ceremony, while a musical prelude was played by Mrs. Lloyd Rogers, Garden Grove music teacher with whom the bride was associated for some time. Mrs. Irvine German of Garden Grove sang "I Love Thee" and "Because."

The home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hawkins, at 511 Walnut street, Long Beach, was the setting for a reception following the ceremony, with 20 relatives and members of the bride's party in attendance. Mrs. A. J. Barnes, mother of the bride, greeted the guests attired in a black crepe suit with black accessories and a gardenia corsage.

After cutting the first slice of wedding cake, the bride changed to a traveling ensemble of a black crepe dress with gold trimmings, black fur coat, and an attractive red velvet hat. For their honeymoon, the new Mr. and Mrs. Howell will take a month's Eastern trip, visiting relatives in Tennessee and Virginia before continuing on to Washington, D. C.

On their return to Garden Grove, the young couple will build a new home where the groom is engaged in ranching. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Howell of Placentia and a graduate of Santa Ana high school and junior college. The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Barnes of Lampson road, Garden Grove, is a Garden Grove high school graduate, later attended Fullerton junior college, and is well known as a pianist and accompanist.

D. A. R. MEETS AT HOME OF MRS. NORTHCROSS

Some 40 members of the Daughters of the American Revolution enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Robert Northcross yesterday afternoon when they met for their regular monthly program, and were presided over by Mrs. Cotton Mather.

After the customary patriotic service and devotionals led by Mrs. H. W. Guthrie, Mrs. W. D. Miller, a transfer member from the Long Beach chapter, was introduced.

The afternoon's program proved very delightful. Initial numbers included songs by Miss Adelaide Proctor, and a group of readings by Mrs. M. E. Getting. Principal feature was a very interesting play, "The Colonial China," given by Dr. Margaret Baker, who brought with her many intriguing specimens of her hobby.

Refreshments concluded the meeting, served at tables decorated with fall flowers. Special guests of the day were Mrs. F. L. Davis, Mrs. William Patterson of Los Angeles, and Mrs. O. M. Robinson of Laguna Beach.

The refreshment committee was composed of Mrs. S. W. Andrews, Mrs. A. A. Dewey, Mrs. M. C. Hoyte, Mrs. J. H. Morningstar and Mrs. J. A. Wilkes.

LEGION JUNIORS MAKE PLANS FOR PARADE

Reminiscences of their happy Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Harold Brown over the week-end colored a business meeting of American Legion auxiliary juniors yesterday. Miss Mabel Louise Casteix, president, directed a vote of thanks to their hostess, and announced prize-winners at the social affair. They were Marjorie Bowman, Margaret, while on the dress, and Nancy Neer for the most comical.

Last night's business included planning the group's part in the Armistice Day parade at Fullerton and also plans to assist in the Tuberculosis Prevention work. Florence Smith, chairman of juniors, talked interestingly on the year's program.

Committee members for a refreshment course were Mary Alice Eklund, Patricia Swarthout, and Leone Legard, while on the clean-up team were Mary Louise Casteix, Betty Howe (a new member), and Phyllis and Mary Ann Sandon.

JUNIOR DANCE IS POSTPONED

Postponement of the Junior Country club dance because of its conflict with Tux and Gowns' formal affair on Saturday night was announced today by Mrs. Hugh Lowe and Mrs. Howard Rapp, chairmen.

The dance will be held next Saturday, the 13th, and Juniors will wear formal attire.

LOCAL GIRLS HOME FOR FOOTBALL GAME

Traveling south on the University of California football special several Santa Ana young people were home from their studies at Berkeley over the week-end, and spent some time renewing acquaintances in Santa Ana although the U. C. L. A.-California game was the focal point of interest.

Miss Barbara Davis came to Santa Ana on Friday night, bringing with her two friends from the University to be houseguests in the C. V. Davis home, 1615 North Broadway, for the week-end. Her guests for the two days were Miss Natalie Becker of Oakland and Miss Betty Schord of Piedmont.

Miss Jean Reuter visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Reuter, 801 Grand avenue, as did Miss Eloise Walker, daughter of Mrs. Ruth C. Walker. Miss Helena Bailey came south with a group of sorority sisters, and stayed at the sorority house on the U. C. L. A. campus before coming to Santa Ana to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bailey, 311 East Washington.

HOLMESES ARE HOME FROM ARIZONA

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Holmes of Newport road, Tustin, have returned from a trip to Tucson over the week-end, in company with their daughter Kathleen and Miss Evelyn Richards.

Occasion for the trip was celebration of Mothers' and Fathers' day at the university, where their son Robert is enrolled. A highlight of the week-end was attendance at the U. C. L. A. and New Mexico football game, when mothers were asked to rise on the bleachers, and Mrs. Holmes was among those thus honored.

BRIDGE CLUB HAS MEETING

When Mrs. George Sailey's Saturday Bridge club was entertained at her home this past week-end it was a particularly delightful meeting, with Halloween favors and decorations enhancing the lovely luncheon table with its lace cloth and crystal service. Mexican sunflowers completed the effective decoration scheme.

Guests for the day were Mrs. Ross Grover, Mrs. Effie Irish, Mrs. Anna James, Mrs. M. O. Wells, Mrs. Etta Sweet, Dr. Ada Henry, Mrs. W. D. Barker, and the latter's sister, Mrs. May Clyma, visiting here from Yuba City.

LAGUNANS HAVE HOUSEGUESTS

Mrs. J. S. Taylor entertained a large group of friends as houseguests in their Laguna Beach cabin over the week-end, with informal games filling the time.

Guests of the Taylors were Mr. and Mrs. George Allison and daughter Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Pibbs, and twins Helen and Hollis. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Wisgerber and daughters Carlotta and Beverly, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Riehl and Shirley and Bob, and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Steers.

JUNIOR EBELL MEETS TONIGHT

Because of a misprint in the Junior Ebells News Letter received yesterday by members, the Ebells are reminded that the monthly November meeting will be held this evening instead of this afternoon. Coincidentally with the correction came reminder of the fact that the meetings will commence promptly from now on, and that doors will be closed at 7:45 p. m. Schuyler Ladd, noted New York actor, will give the program.

Your Baby Book
By EDNA WILSON

Well, Halloween has come and gone, but the memory lingers on, or something. It's doubtful whether the kiddies or the grownups had the most fun at their parties, but we know that we've had our share, anyway. Of parties that is. The ones we didn't attend in person, we heard about or wrote about. And it seems to us that with so many parties, there were easily enough for one around for each youngster. We hope so, anyway.

We've amazed ourselves at the various ways to describe the very same decorations in story after story. But we're just as amazed at the new and different costumes that proud mamas can stitch up for their party-going youngsters. I'll bet right now that a good many of the little folk's costumes were every bit as elaborate as those of our adult friends.

It's hard to know just where to begin with all these gaily little affairs, so perhaps the most appropriate thing would be to forget about parties and such and introduce two very charming young ladies to the readers of the Baby Book.

First of all we have attractive Miss Jean Evelyn West, who is the two-and-a-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry West, Jr., of 209 1/2 West Fourth street. We'd love to know much more about Miss Jean, but for the moment, all we know is that she loves to cut out paper dolls.

And then there's a mighty pretty little girl called Susan Jo Irwin, of the Joe B. Irwins. (Mrs. Irwin was formerly Ethel West.) We saw little Susan Jo recently, all dressed up in a big red balloon, and carrying a big red balloon. She's three years old, blond, with big blue eyes, likes her trike and her dolls. But that's all we can tell you about her now; more about her later, maybe. We hope so!

And while introductions are still the order of the day, may we present, dear reader, one of our most handsome newcomers, Master Chadron McKinney Harwood, Jr. He arrived on Saturday morning at St. Joseph hospital, weighing exactly seven pounds, four ounces. He's a striking brunet, just like Mom and Dad, and has blue eyes—when he opens them.

In case we forgot to mention it, he's the son of Dr. Chad M. Harwood, one of our foremost young physicians, and Mrs. Harwood, who is the former Miss Jacqueline Sherrard of Los Angeles. Chad, Jr., is the first grandchild on both sides.

Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Harwood of Santa Ana and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Sherrard of Los Angeles—and they're all pretty proud, too! When Mrs. Harwood and the infant leave the hospital in a week or so, it'll be to make their home at 204 Orange avenue.

Just to stay away from these Halloween parties for a little longer, we'll tell you about one and only birthday party for the week—yes, again! This time it was a gay little affair for little Betty Jo Hunter, and was given by her mother, Mrs. Thomas Hunter of 2114 North Broadway. Betty Jo was four years old and the party was just a big circus, both in the amount of fun and the happy little theme that Mama Hunter carried out. The little guests played kiddies' games all afternoon, and pretty little prizes were given to the winners. When they finally finished playing and got ready to eat, they found a festive table all decorated in circus colors and pennants. A little boy doll was standing at each little boy's place, and a little girl doll at each little girl's place.

And in the center was the attraction of attractions—a huge cake all decorated to look like a circus tent. There was a striped canopy over the top, candy sticks to hold it up, and frosted animal crackers in all colors marching around the edge. So that they didn't have to spoil the delicacy, there were individual birthday cakes at each of the places. Mary Hunter, sister of the honor guest, helped her Mother in serving, and so did Miss Lella Slaback and Miss Barbara Elliott.

All the lads and lassies brought cute presents for Betty Jo, and those who came were Hoyt and Carol Bostick, Richard and Charles Soper, Patty Kay Ebbert, Marilyn Grace Travis, Helen Jean Honer, Beverly Ann Chumal, Norma Lee Herzog, and Joan Hamilton.

So at last we're down to a Halloween party. It wasn't long ago that we introduced the two Maylors—little Wynclaire and Willa Jean—and now they're with us again, this time at a party. Mrs. Harold Maylen and her sister, Mrs. Curtis Allen joined in giving the affair for Wynclaire and Gordon Allen.

When the youngsters arrived at the Maylens home, 131 Bachman drive, they found a constable tepee greeting them on the front porch. Light was furnished by a grinning jack-o-lantern.

And inside was Joyce Allen all dressed up as a gypsy fortune teller to give out little slips to each guest, listing his part for the program. Inside the house, they found all sorts of colorful decorations in the holiday motif, with a huge basket of marigolds sent by Mrs. John J. Vernon to complete the appointments.

PLUMES OF PARIS—Burst goose simulates egret on Hodge's evening hat.

HALOED PILLBOX—Crisp veiling makes a halo behind this velvet pillbox.

YOUNG FOLK FROLIC IN COUNTRY BARN

The spacious and modernized Deardorff-Thomas barn that is so frequently scene of parties during the harvest season was setting for a gay get-together of the younger set over the week-end when a group of Julia Lathrop boys and girls had a most party.

Colorful gourds, corn-cobs, and jack o'lanterns surrounded the dance floor that has been built into the barn, and on the side were many set-ups for the old-fashioned holiday games. After a grand march Cecil Harmon was awarded a prize for the most original costume, and later in the evening a dancing contest resulted in a prize going to Molly Maloney and Richard Kendall. Refreshments were served in the old stalls that have been transformed into attractive eating booths.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Deardorff, Mrs. Rufus Bond, Mrs. Emmett Murphy, Mrs. E. B. Faupel, and Mrs. Barney Koster supervised the party, which was attended by Bonnie Lee Martin, Glenna Jean Titchell, Glenna Jean Deardorff, Doris Faupel, Betty Haynes, Beverly Short, Ruanne Neighbor, Betty Jean Koster, Ruth Murphy, Eugenia Bond, Molly Maloney, Forrest Menzie, DeWitt Springmeyer, Ben Panell, Richard Kendall, Ralph Guldge, Cecil Harmon, Harvey Riggie, Veltan Pagenkopp, Jimmie Each, Jimmie Russell, Don Yoder, and Kenneth Lindall.

YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOY PARTY

An evening of informal games was enjoyed Saturday evening by a group of young people, the guests of Corky Warren and Dimples Farrell at a Halloween party held at 814 North Parton street.

The evening was spent playing football and other games. Refreshments carried out the holiday motif used in decorations and favors. Guests included Al Graves, Hughie Nelson, Rowdy Klepper, Poppy Ladiges, Dinbus Egginton, Mark Webb, Shorty Bates, DeLo Randall, See Walker, Orphan Henderson, Marge Shoemaker, Lulu Belle Adamson, Dimples Farrell, Willie Boyle, Monky Montgomery, Corky Warren, and Danny Pinnix.

MCKINLEY P. T. A.

Members of the McKinley grammar school P. T. A. executive board will meet at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening, Nov. 3, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Gajaski, 1015 West Sixth street, for a business session and dessert course. Mrs. Paul Webb will be co-hostess.

With bangs and is visiting in Santa Ana with her mother from Minneapolis. And I saw tiny Elton Roehm, the smallest of the bunch. He has blond hair and a fair complexion. And I paid particular attention to young Walden Leeding, the handsome young son of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Leeding. He was especially appealing in a brown striped sweater.

But since I'm running out of time and space, I think perhaps I'd better put off telling you more details about the youngsters, and try to get more later. So I'll just list the names of the kiddies I saw perform and let it go at that. They were Donald Ball, Bobby Biles, Lyla Blackburn, JoAnn Bredlow, Deana Charlton, Albert Chan, Jeanne Corey, Sharon Close, Thelma Dalton, Billy Dickinson, Hubert Finch, Chester Horton, Luis Hull, Hubert Manker, Richard Merker, Nancy Murane, Jimmy Paul, Donny Price, Elton Roehm, Yvette Sleeper, Bobby Spears, Robert Van Drimlen, Walden Leeding, Gale Woodward, Marie Alexander, Joan Falk and Jean Evans.

So until next Tuesday when I can tell you more about this crop of happy young school kiddies, I'd better quit.

Some pun-kins, hey?

Too Many People Are Afraid to Make Any Decisions; Worried Mother, Too

If this old world of ours ever comes to an end, methinks it will be because of lack of decision of the majority of the inhabitants. It is amazing to me, as I read the hundreds of letters, year after year from men and women, young and old, who think they have a problem—when the difficulty is analyzed as we used to diagram a sentence not making enough money to support me. I am becoming blue and discouraged, as I just can't hope that our financial condition will ever be any better, so we can give the children some of life's advantages until I go to work and help pay the bills.

We get nearly all our vegetables and fruit, all our potatoes and many times, fresh meat, from my mother. I can fruit and vegetables and meat for winter.

In view of all of this, do you think I would be so terrible? I could find some motherly middle-aged lady who needed a home, to stay with the children while I brushed up on my work? I cannot see anything else for me to do, as I don't want to move out to mother's again.

Please advise me what to do, as I honestly cannot stand this much longer. Sincerely,
WORRIED MOTHER.

Your husband, like the bad boy who stole the neighbor's apples, needs a lesson. The neighbor made him chop wood to pay for the apples. You attempt to bring in the family bacon, your husband should be made to pay for his share.

He objects to your attempting to give your offspring a fair chance in life. He is selfish, as are all persons who drink to excess. What you should do is to make arrangements to do your best to take care of your boys and yourself and let him shift for himself. He will either sink or swim. If he swims, it won't be long before he will be swimming triumphantly toward the old home fires. If he chooses to sink, he will pull only himself down.

SILK STOCKING MILEAGE...

To produce the silk in one pair of milady's service weight hose requires the life work of some 64 silkworms. The average silkworm, in spinning its cocoon, produces and winds about itself one mile of silk filament. It takes four miles of filament to make one mile of thread and some eight miles of thread goes into each stocking.

Adams and Jefferson, both signers of the Declaration of Independence, both died on the 50th anniversary of American independence, July 4, 1826. President Coolidge was born on July 4.

Women Versus War

American refugees from the Shanghai area have given their countrymen on this safe side of the Pacific some new notions on the frightfulness of war.

American women whose lives have been attuned to the activities of peace have come back to their native land literally stunned by the awfulness of the war tragedy that suddenly descended upon them.

"As we made our way through streets strewn with mangled dead and wounded human beings I suddenly became aware that I was seeing everything in black and white tones," says one American woman. "My brain had ceased to function normally.

"I was filled with a terrible despair that we could do nothing to stop the terrible slaughter and butchery.

"I became suddenly passionately angry with myself for running away to a ship, to safety, when millions of Chinese mothers with their children had no place to which they could flee," she confessed.

War, the world around, is making women more and more its enemies. By its very frightfulness, its incomprehensibility, its encroachment upon the age-old sanctity of home and of children, war may arouse in the women of the world the antagonism that will ultimately seal its doom.

Some day a movie gridiron hero may fail to win the game for dear old Swash in the last minute of play. If he does, they probably will award him the victory on a penalty.

Our Reasonable Defense

America can have 10,000 airplanes in its defense fleet and still not be legitimately accused of having overstepped the bounds of planned defense of our shores.

Airplanes cannot possibly reach the shores of any nation with which this one might conceivably enter into a military debate.

Present airplane-carrying warships are capable of hauling just a few dozen planes from the United States to a point of effective usefulness as offensive weapons.

Several thousand of the world's fastest combat planes and several more thousand of the best bombers would be a reasonable defensive objective for this nation, considering the spirit of aggression and conquest that is running amuck throughout the world.

While Edward and Wallis are studying our housing situation, we'll study their luggage situation—70 trunks.

Scanties of 1938

Without fear of scientifically-based contradiction we can and do predict that bathing suits will be even scantier next summer.

The Jantzen Co., large manufacturers of tip-top bathing suits at Portland, Ore., has just filed its annual report, showing a profit of $301,145, as against $369,159 the year before.

From this the deduction is clear that next year there won't be as much material in the suits and that, ergo, the suits will be smaller. Wait and see. Anyway, it's an exciting bit of speculating, isn't it?

An Omaha man and his wife didn't speak to each other for a year. The man did pretty well, but his wife is getting a divorce.

Lesson in French

When Mlle. Simone Simon (or is it vice versa?) came over from France we gallantly greeted her in her first movie and learned three or four ways of pronouncing her name, any one of which pronunciations we now use with the utmost aplomb.

And now comes pretty Mlle. Danielle Darriex to act in a New York stage show and do one movie for Hollywood (and for $200,000). So we have to learn our French all over again.

Doggone it, why don't the French give their export beauties simpler names?

The stock market's pulse is improving, and it will be interesting to learn whether the sun spots have reduced in size accordingly.

Some Help for 'The Boys'

Pre-election year is skidding toward the holidays, and political platforms and promises will become increasingly important.

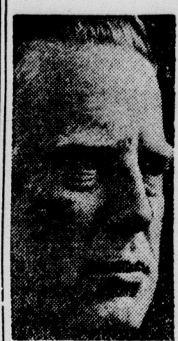

Here's a sample platform, offered free of charge to congressional hopefuls:

High prices for farm products. Low costs for consumers. High wages for workers. Low costs for employers. Two chickens in every automobile and an ever-normal dinner pail.

FAIR Enough

This Guy George Spelvin

By Westbrook Pegler

From time to time these living, human documents have tried to record the mixed ruminations, the prejudices, and the bafflement of the average American, using for his name George Spelvin. Several correspondents, including a drama critic who was covering one of the Haymarket theaters of the summer circuits in New Hampshire, have been good enough to report that they have discovered Mr. Spelvin himself at work in the drama in various places and to suggest that perhaps it was unwise to attribute such thoughts to an actual person who might hold decided views to the contrary.

This leads me to think that the story of Mr. Spelvin is of general interest, for he is a noted character in the professional circle of the theater but dying fast and has received too little recognition in his 30 years or so on the stage. Mr. Spelvin has played more roles than any other actor that ever lived, and though he has usually performed acceptably and sometimes with distinction he is the only ham of his grade and ability who has never been invited to fall in with the rest of the cast and take his bows at the fall of the curtain. His passing soon to occur, will be unnoticed even by his colleagues and the stage and nobody will realize that he was gone until, perhaps years later, someone remarks, "I wonder whatever became of George Spelvin." Sentimentalists though they are, the men and women who paint their faces, dress up in fancy clothes and give recitations and sing and dance will send not so much as a card to the kin or a sprig to his bier.

FIVE SHOWS AT ONCE

George Spelvin made his debut in a minor part in "Brewster's Millions," and there once was a time when he was appearing in five Broadway productions at once.

John Golden, the producer of many plays and currently of "Susan and God," with Gertrude Lawrence, which, in return for his assistance, I dare hope is a smash hit, goes back to the beginning on George.

It was Eddie Abeles who invented Mr. Spelvin. Mr. Golden informs me out of a memory of the theater as long as an Englishman's shirt and as cluttered as a rat's nest with odd bits of reminiscent information. Spelvin, says Mr. Golden, was an imaginary character, to whom Eddie Abeles attributed all blame for everything that went wrong and all gossip and rumor. He was Mr. Abeles' personal Joe Doe, and so the popularity accepted form of "I Hear" or "They Tell Me," Mr. Abeles would attribute the most scurrilous hearsay to George Spelvin. There were times when half a dozen actors were looking for Spelvin on murder intent to rebuke vicious reports bearing on their private and domestic affairs.

In "Brewster's Millions" there was an actor cast for two parts who naturally wanted to use his own name for the better one, and it was Abeles, the star, who, when they came to make up the program, proposed the name of his confidential wraith for the minor role. Mr. Golden doesn't recall the name of the mimic who first used this hardy alias, but he does recall that Jack Devereaux, the juvenile after ten weeks of rehearsal, returned an answer to Fred Thompson, the producer, which was of some weight when, years afterward, the actors' equity placed a limitation on the period of rehearsal without pay.

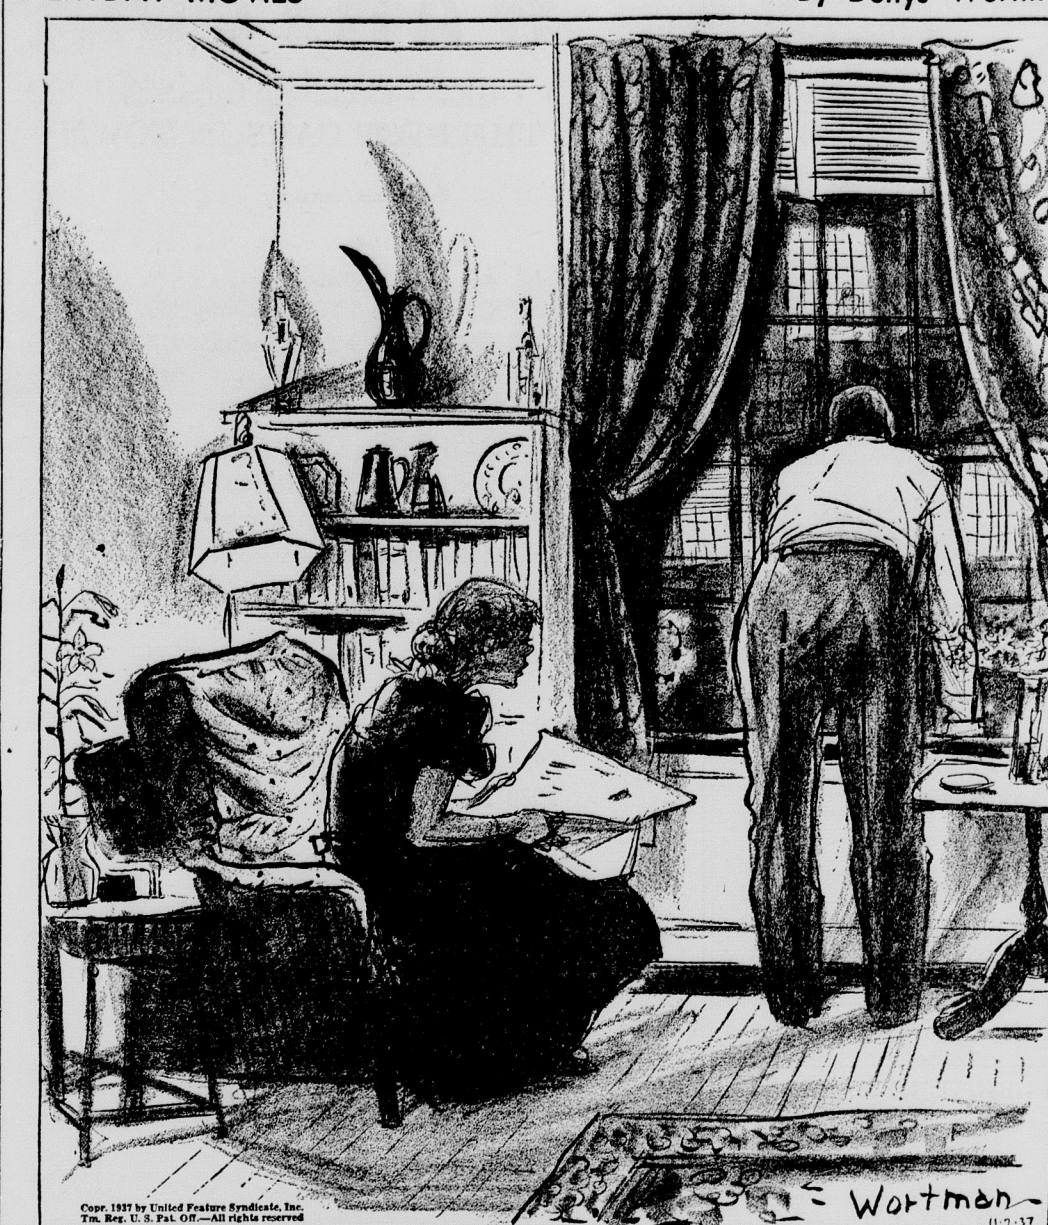

"You read that part like an old man," said Thompson. "I thought you were a juvenile," to which Devereaux replied, "I was when we started rehearsals."

HE WAS MIRACLE MAN

In later years, Mr. Golden, out of slightly superstitious respect for the success of "Brewster's Millions," made a point of using George Spelvin's name on the program of "No. 6," "Washington Square," "Turn to the Right," "Lightning," "Three Wise Fools," "Seventh Heaven" and "The First Year" for the secondary role of the actor who doubled. And it is his belief that if any artist has a special claim to the name it would be Mr. Jimmy Lane, who also was George Spelvin in a succession of Golden plays over several years. Other producers adopted Spelvin, however, and he often appeared simultaneously not only in several Broadway houses but in theaters on the road, hundreds of miles apart.

But for all his experience and occasional flashes of genius, Spelvin never progressed or even took a bow because the men who used his name always reverted to their loftier roles at the end of the show. George Spelvin's career is waning now, undone by his own versatility and accumulating fame. The customers are getting on him and, of all things, resent him as a deceiver in a world of make-believe.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

NOV. 2, 1912
NEW YORK.—Woodrow Wilson's majority over Roosevelt and Taft in the electoral college will exceed 300, according to the forecast of the current issue of Harper's Weekly.

The final Republican rally of the campaign is to be held in Santa Ana tonight at the opera house. William E. Smythe, prominent California orator, and Albert Johnson, nephew of Governor Hiram Johnson, will be principal speakers.

LONDON.—Only two lines of forts stretching across the peninsula outside of Constantinople stand between Turkey and total obliteration as a power in Europe as the Bulgarians began following up their recent rout with another drive today.

SAN FRANCISCO.—All that was left on the court calendars of the so-called graft prosecution in San Francisco, which resulted in the overthrow of the Schmitz administration passed into history yesterday when Judge William P. Lawlor dismissed the last of the indictments.

Remarkable Remarks

For twenty years there has been no marked improvement in men's styles. Adolphe Menjou, prominent actor.

People are spending 5 per cent more in retail stores than they did a year ago, but prices have gone up 9 per cent.—John D. Hamilton, G. O. P. national chairman.

I'll Tell You

By BOB BURNS

The main reason why crime flourishes more in the cities than it does in the small town is because in the city the victims never get together, while in the small town, if you trick just a couple of people, they soon get together and in a short while the whole town knows about it.

My cousin Hod was quite a playboy down home and he was pretty much of a hand with the women, but they soon got wise to him and none of the girls would have him. Finally one day a strange girl came to town and he made quite an impression on her because she didn't know about his reputation. He seemed so sincere that she accepted his engagement ring and couldn't wait to go down on Main street to flash it. That night when he called on her, he says "Well, didja show the girls the engagement ring?" and she says "I sure did." He says "Did they admire it?" and she says "They done more than that! Four of 'em recognized it!" (Copyright, 1937)

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

Windsor's visit heading for Flaco unless British take charge; U. S. officials passing the buck pending word from his embassy; a mean time duke's agents are getting lots of personal publicity; harsh words flew at labor parley when CIO rejected AFL offers.

WASHINGTON.—If the British government does not regularize the forthcoming visit of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, there is a good chance that it will become just as much of a mess as the well remembered tour of Queen Marie of Roumania.

So far, plans for the Windsors' sojourn here have been a mixture of buck-passing and personal advertising.

The administration to date has dodged any official plans for the Windsors' reception here. Mrs. Roosevelt has told the state department that she would give them a tea, and that probably there would be a White House dinner.

But after that, they will be on their own. Miss Perkins has said she would be glad to put them in touch with certain social and labor problems, but has made it clear that she is not inviting them to the United States. Also Secretary of the Interior Ickes is being queried regarding other portions of their tour.

Cables to Ickes from Charles Bedeaux, on behalf of the Duke, have been coming collect. They asked for the location of housing projects and worthwhile scenic spots. Ickes answered in detail by cable collect. The wording of the cable made it clear that the interior department was not a tourist bureau.

PAID PUBLICITY

Simultaneously with the arrival of these cablegrams, in fact some time before their arrival, their text was made public by the Windsors' publicity organization. This consists of Arthur Kudner, Inc., New York advertising firm, and its Washington representative, Frank Getty.

These are employed by Charles Bedeaux, who has taken the Duke and Duchess under his wing. Bedeaux is a mysterious figure. He began life working below the water-level as a sand-hog, devised a stretch-out system for speeding up this and other work, is of French-Canadian descent, once was a member of the Foreign Legion, and is suspected of using the Duke's trip as a neat little method for advertising Bedeaux.

Meanwhile nothing concrete is being done about the Duke's trip. Secretary Ickes has received several hundred letters and telegrams asking about the royal couple. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad sent an agent to ascertain what kind of a car they would want, and women's clubs from every state have sent emotional queries as to whether Edward and Wallis would favor their home town.

But beyond housing and national parks, Ickes refuses to act as the Windsor's wet nurse. And members of the British Embassy, when questioned by newspapermen about the trip, gaze serenely out the window.

GRAND MELEE

What the Windsors do not seem to know is that it is almost impossible for people as famous as they to visit the United States without having their tour carefully arranged by some official agency, and that the United States government is not going to arrange it.

In Germany, the Nazi government had the Windsors' time charted from morning coffee to last night-cap. But democratic governments are not accustomed to efficient catering to royalty, especially when the guests are not vouched for their own embassy.

So if things continue, the Windsors may be in for as bad a fiasco as the visit of Queen Marie and her publicity-seeking camp-followers.

HARD TALK

The last meeting of the AFL and CIO negotiators was a plain-talking session. The A. F. of L. had just submitted peace terms that ended the truce.

The pleasanties that had characterized previous conferences vanished in thin air, as laborites squared off and barked at each other in unadorned language.

"How the hell do you guys get that way?" snapped Mike Quill, head of the CIO Transport Workers, at George Harrison, chief Federation delegate—"saying you are willing to mediate what our eventual status will be. There is nothing to mediate."

"My union never had more than 3000 members when it was in the A. F. of L. We are 60,000 strong now; we've gotten raises of $15 to $20 a week and a vacation with pay. Do you think we'd allow your gang to take control of us again? Like hell we would! When we re-enter the A. F. of L. it will be on our terms, not yours."

James Carey, president of the rebel Electrical and Radio Workers union, was equally tough.

"Listen, Harrison," he rasped, "get this straight. Under the A. F. of L. our union never amounted to a tinker's dam. Now we have 90,000 dues-paying members, have won wage increases and shorter hours. Nobody can turn us over to your outfit because my men wouldn't stand for it. You birds have a funny idea of peace. You want us to eat crow and surrender when you have nothing to offer and we are on top. Nuts to that."

The Federation trio made no reply to these outbursts, but Harrison sharply accused the CIOers of bad faith in making public their peace plan.

FIGHT FOR SUPREMACY

Behind all their statement-hurling, the CIO-AFL proposals get down to this: A fight for supremacy of the labor field between industrial and craft unionism.

Under the CIO terms it would be only a short time before the rebel unions would be ruling the A. F. of L. roost. And that would mean finis for Federation czars Bill Green, "Bully Bill" Hutcheson, John Frey and others. Naturally they are not going to allow that to happen if they can help it.

Hence their strategy in offering to restore full Federation status to the original 12 insurgents, but to turn over the 21 new CIO unions to their craft rivals. That would give them hundreds of thousands of new dues-paying members, but leave control of the Federation, and the security of their fat-paying jobs, safely in their own hands.

Unless some solution of this deadlock is evolved, there will be no peace. A compromise is possible, but the question is, do the rival labor moguls want to compromise? (Copyright, 1937)

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion. The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag.

MERELY FIORELLO

To the Editor: The name "Fiorello" of La Guardia's does not mean small flower. "Fiorello" means small flower. "Fiorelino" means floweret.

So you see that Fiorello has no significance at all in Italian, merely meaning Fiorello.

JUNIOR COLLEGE PLANT

Cramped facilities again surged forward this week as the "best seller" of campus comment and criticism.

El Don recently brought to public attention the fact that our football men were required to dress in crowded, ill-equipped locker rooms. This week the matter of lack of ample office space has come forward and smacked directly at El Don, making production of this issue of the paper more difficult than at any time previous.

It was never more evident than now that Santa Ana needs a new junior college plant. In case of doubt one has only to journey to other colleges with the football team to see what excellent facilities they have to offer. Every school in the Eastern conference has a better campus than the Dons.

The time has come when all good Santa Anans should join in a campaign for a new college. Otherwise, we cannot hope to retain the large enrollment we have at present. The problem demands the immediate attention of school authorities and city boosters. — Santa Ana J. C. Don.

RAIL RATE INCREASES

Concede that Wall Street is pretty jittery, ready to plummet or zoom at the slightest pretext, yet its reactions are not without value as a barometer. Not for instance, its reception of the freight-rate increase, amounting to $475,000 per year, just granted to the railroads by the I. C. C., plus a substantial fare increase for some passenger lines.

Did Wall Street respond to the railroads' rallying cry, increased rates would strengthen their position and bring their earnings up to a "fair return"? It did not; it sold rail stocks, and losses from one to 10 points were recorded. To be sure, the railroads didn't get all they asked for from the I. C. C., but they did get about 90 per cent of it, and that should have been cheerful news had their thesis been foolproof.

Perhaps Wall Street operators are canny enough to know that freight-rate increases by the railroads mean turning business to their aggressive competition, the trucks; that passenger-rate increases are first aid to the bus industry. The railroads make much of the wage increases recently given their employees, but are living standards raised by attempting to get the money back from the public in higher rates, thereby increasing everybody's cost of living? Resort to high prices and scarcity economy will hardly help the railroads in the long run.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

JAZZERS

Craze for speed means sudden death and shorter lives, but to lighten the burden of sadness caused thereby, here's a story about speed: Railroad which ran fast stock trains claimed it took two people to watch one of its trucks go by. One person to say "Here it comes," the other to say, "Gee, it smells, didn't it?" —O. W. McBride in La Habra Star.

WHIMSIES

NEW YORK.—Those hiring foreign servants these days should confirm the references with great care. A Park avenue lady recently lost a Japanese servant who had been with her for years. He said he wanted to return to his native land to remain permanently.

A few weeks later another matron phoned her about the flattering references she had given the departing employee, who had just applied to her for a position. The first woman thought it odd, but decided the servant merely wanted to change jobs and was evasive.

Her husband, however, was suspicious. That was not like Oko. So he made an appointment to call on the lady and have the Jap tell him to the house. As he suspected, it was not Oko, but a complete stranger. He called in the police to straighten things out.

It developed the interloper was a professional thief and had bought the references. It was further learned that purchasing references is very common. Some of the foreign-born servants returning home for good make a tidy sum selling high-class references to a shady agency.

Incidentally, there is a slump in Jap valets. Many have been called back to fight for their country in China. The Jap valet has long been considered a part of the gay bachelor's personnel, and is also a symbol of the nouveau riche. The first Jap valet in the memory of older New Yorkers was employed by Chauncey Depew in his young and dandy days. George M. Cohan has long had a Chinese valet known to all the theatrical profession as "Mike." It was George Broadhurst, I believe, who had a Filipino valet so excellent in his mimicry of actors that he was offered a booking over a vaudeville circuit.

The highly trained valets, such as those who serve the Vanderbilts, Goulds and Morgans, are as carefully picked as confidential employees in big enterprises or the diplomatic service. They necessarily know all the secrets and must be the sort who can be trusted. The majority are those who have had experience among the nobles of England or the Scandinavian countries. Not only are they linguists, but they must know the fine points of social etiquette. While their job may have a menial sound, they are far from menial. And their life becomes pretty much de luxe. When they travel they go on private yachts, special train coaches and private airplanes. Off duty, they are not found at the movie or at Coney Island, but at the Metropolitan art gallery, the various museums and the opera. Also, they are the most detached of household servants, rarely mingling with the others.

Somerset Maugham travels everywhere with his valet—the only literary figure I know so forgoing. He is such a capable and understanding fellow that after years he has selected every article of wearing apparel for his master. Being the same size, he also goes for the fittings of all the clothes. I have been told he is paid $100 a week, plus expenses, and is in line for the discarded clothes which, of course, do not have to have the slightest alterations.

They say in Harlem that Bill Robinson has a quarter million salted in annuities against the day when his feather feet are no longer so nimble. The annuities were paid up about a year ago, and the dancer is reputed to take only enough of his enormous salary for modest needs, and the rest goes to worthy colored charities. He is especially interested in the young boys of his race in his home city, Richmond, Va., and is educating a number of them. Robinson is past 50, and his only extravagances are noisy shirts and loud creases. He admits that there are days when his ice cream consumption is a quart. Robinson's salary has soared to as high as $6500 a week.

There are few who are not tap dancers at heart. The dignified gentlemen who take private lessons in the art world, I happen to know, surprise most folk. An expert always inspires envy. I have seen Pat Rooney II go through his routine a hundred times, and I'd walk blocks any time any day to see him again. Twice in the past year, I have made arrangements to master the tap, but when I get to the entrance way I somehow get suddenly took with one of my short of breath spells. (Copyright, 1937)

BRIGHT MOMENTS

Charles II, English monarch once requested Lord Rochester once requested Lord Rochester a prankster and rhymester of the first word, wrote as follows: "Here lies our sovereign lord, the king; whose word no man could ever disobey."

Who never said a foolish thing; and never did a wise one.

This greatly amused the king's friends, and brought the witty retort from the king: "That is easily accounted for; my words are my own; my actions those of my ministers."
